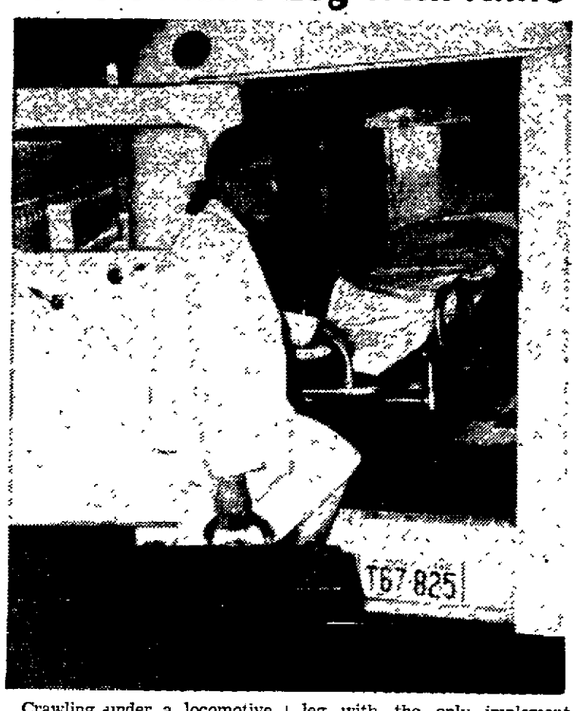
RAF AGAIN SMASHES ROSTOCK

Severs Man's Leg With Knife



Crawling under a locomotive in almost total darkness to where a young brakeman was lying with a crushed leg, Dr. Marinana Diez-Rivas, 23 (above), a Puerto Rican girl intern at Virginia hospital, Richmond, Va., amputated the leg with the only implement on hand a penknife. For illumination she held a flashlight between her teeth. The victim is expected to recover. A male colleague of the girl intern commented that "it was a beautiful job But most of all it took guts."

War Halts Repair of Streets, Rural Roads

U. S. Restrictions Prohibit Delivery of Asphalt Material and Oil to Settle Dust on Streets.

The nation's war effort today stepped out to block street repair and road oiling programs in Mansfield and Richland county.

Carl H. Stander, president of the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company, whose company holds contracts to supply both the city and county with road oil and asphalt materials, informed Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff and county commissioners that he would be unable to supply the materials.

Stander said that government orders forbid the sale of additional road oil and that sharp restrictions had been placed on the sale of asphalt "cut-back," which is used to seal repair patches on roads.

The city normally uses between eight and nine carloads of road oil a year for oiling city streets and alleys The oiling program is not expected to be started until late in May. The county wanted 100,000 gallons of road oil to distribute for use throughout the county.

Director Wolff said that the city would still receive about five carloads of road oil which it ordered last year but that this would be sufficient for only half of the oiling done in the city in a normal year.

The service director also stated that delivery of the five carloads ordered will be subject to the availability of tank cars to bring it to Mansfield. The government has placed restrictions on the routing of such cars which are needed to transport oil for war uses.

Because of the cut in the city's oil supply, Director Wolff said that he would ask city council to limit oiling to only primary streets. This would mean the elimination of oiling of all alleys in the city.

County Engineer Howard Sword said that the county

Mercury Hits High Of 81, Heads for Even Higher Mark

Mansfielders were thinking about picnics and fishing trips today after the mercury went up to 81 degrees for a new high for the season yesterday afternoon and headed for a higher mark today.

The weatherman said the high temperatures will continue tonight, but he couldn't say anything about Sunday because of the war censorship. There was no mention of showers.

With the low reading this morning at 47 degrees, the average for the past 24 hours was 64 as compared with a normal 46.6 degrees for this date. The noon reading today was 75.

Cincinnati had the highest mark in Ohio yesterday and one of the top readings in the country at 85 degrees. It was 81 in Columbus and 79 at Cleveland.

County Agent George B. Ganyard said the warm weather of the past two days has boosted the growth of crops and pastures, but he added that farmers need rain soon to help the newly seeded oats and gardens.

MUSIC DRIVE ENDS TONIGHT

Workers Finish Membership Campaign at 8 p. m. After Contacting 2,500.

Mansfield Civic Music association workers prepared today to wind up the annual membership campaign at 8 p. m. after making approximately 2,500 personal contacts to bring Mansfield a concert season next year designed to equal or surpass anything that has been staged here before.

At a workers' check-up last night at campaign headquarters in the Ohio Fuel Gas company, 68 Park avenue west, Albert Arnold, president of the association, pointed out that no memberships will be accepted after 8 p m. and that workers must report by that time.

Persons interested in becoming members who have not been contacted are invited to make arrangements for membership at campaign headquarters.

Arnold said today that "every effort to give Mansfield the opportunity of hearing great artists for a sixth consecutive season had been made this week by the workers."

The artists to appear here next year will be chosen at the completion of the campaign tonight by the talent committee. The committee will base its selection upon the artist preference ballots submitted by each member.

Mrs. D. O. Meese, general membership chairman, and Mrs. Stanley Richardson, headquarters chairman, will remain at headquarters throughout the day. They will be joined for a final check-up tonight by Miss Myrtle Booth, treasurer, campaign majors and captains of the seven divisions.

Boost Seen In East's Gasoline Quota

NEW RATION FIGURE SET BY OFFICIALS

Allotment Estimated at From Seven and a Half to 10 Gallons Per Week.

DELIVERY CUT HINTED

Reports In Washington Say Curtailment Likely to Reach 50 Per Cent.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Government officials in charge of the gasoline rationing program which will be launched in eastern states May 15 today hoped to fix the average motorist's ration of motor fuel at from 7½ to 10 gallons a week.

However, there still was disagreement in official Washington over the exact amount, first set as low as 2½ to five gallons a week by sources close to the Office of Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

With a 33⅓ curtailment in deliveries to gasoline filling stations now in effect under orders issued by Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes, average consumption has already been cut to about 10 gallons a week, although it may not be evenly spread.

Reports were current that Ickes was considering the possibility of issuing a new order increasing curtailments up to 50 per cent, and making it effective in the Pacific northwest states of Oregon and Washington as well as along the eastern seaboard.

Such a step would cut the average consumption to about 7½ gallons a week, and some government officials hoped that the weekly ration could be maintained at that amount once the card system goes into effect.

Ickes said Wednesday that there is no justification in anticipating a cut to a ration of 2½ to five gallons a week.

Although figures on current stocks of gasoline in storage along the Atlantic seaboard are undisclosed, it was learned that shipments of gasoline and oil products into that area dropped to 700,000 barrels a day as compared to estimated minimum requirements of 1,320,000 barrels, and average daily consumption of 1,500,000 barrels under normal conditions

As a result, the east coast was receiving only about half of mini-

BARES 'DRIVE'

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Soldiers Propagandized Against Labor.

NEW YORK—(U P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt charged last night that some "awfully clever people" were spreading anti-labor propaganda among the armed forces.

"There has been a decided propaganda drive against labor," she said at a Young Women's Christian Association discussion of "women workers and war production."

She said the enemies of organized labor were spreading talk that it is not patriotic to receive good wages while men in the armed forces were facing death for much less.

Men in military service must remember, she said, that their people at home were safeguarding labor standards for the day they would return to work.

Drift Eight Days In Lifeboat After Torpedo Attack.

HAMILTON, Bermuda —(INS)— Twenty-six survivors of a torpedoed American freighter, landed at Bermuda by a United States naval vessel, told today how two enemy submarines fired three shells through the sides of their ship and how the 14 other members of their crew subsequently drowned in a sinking lifeboat.

Five of the 26 were hospitalized, suffering from exposure and lack of food, but the remaining 21 reported only minor inconvenience from swollen feet as the result of drifting for eight days in a lifeboat before being picked up.

HANDBILL CASE BACK IN COURT

Appeal Filed In Shelby Action After Mayor Fines Union Organizer $50.

Decision in a case involving the constitutionality of Shelby's handbill ordinance rested again today with Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston after Homer Pierce, Mansfield labor organizer for the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers union appealed a Shelby mayor's court sentence to the county court.

Judge Huston yesterday refused to rule on Pierce's petition for a temporary injunction against enforcement of the ordinance and referred the question of the constitutionality of the ordinance to Mayor W. R. Morris of Shelby.

The mayor yesterday afternoon fined Pierce $50 and costs for violating the ordinance, adding that he did not think his court could determine whether the measure was constitutional. Pierce and his counsel, Attorney George W. Biddle, then

War Stamp Sale Booms In Five Downtown Booths

Business was rushing today at the five war savings stamp sale booths set up this morning by the Junior Association of Commerce at downtown intersections, officials of the organization reported.

Lee Smaltz, chairman of the JAC committee, reported at noon to Paul M. Eliot, Richland county war bond chairman, that there had been a heavy sale of stamps throughout the forenoon.

Shortly after the booths opened for business, they sent out a rush order for 50-cent stamps, on which Smaltz said there had been heavy demand.

In addition, several of the booths reported that passersby had stopped to place orders for bonds with maturity value of $25. These will be obtained from banks and supplied to the purchaser.

Each booth was manned by a JAC member, assisted by a Senior Girl Scout. In addition, 40 Girl Scouts distributed bond literature in the downtown area in the vicinity of the booths.

The JAC plans to operate the booths each Saturday henceforth, and every day during the May. 2-9 bond pledge convass.

Drops 400 Tons Of Explosives In 24 Hours

Million Pounds of Bombs Rip Heinkel Aircraft Plant and Big Shipyards; British Jubilant; Nazis Reply With Air Raids on Coast.

(By International News Service)

LONDON—Bringing the 24-hour total of bombs dropped to the staggering figure of almost 1,000,000 pounds, hundreds of Royal Air Force planes again raided the vital German industrial city of Rostock early today, their way lit by fires still roaring as a result of the first battering assault yesterday morning.

More than 400 tons of high explosive bombs were dropped on the city where the huge Heinkel aircraft plant is located in the course of the two attacks, it was estimated.

Great Britain uses the long ton, which is 2,240 pounds as against the 2,000 pound American ton. Thus the total weight of bombs dropped came to 896,000 pounds.

A German communique admitted the widespread nature of the raids. Insisting as usual that only non-military objectives were attacked, a communique said that "a number of dwelling houses, monuments and public welfare institutions were destroyed or damaged."

Today's attack was even greater than that of yesterday, and British newspapers say that the damage at Rostock exceeds that at Lubeck, whose main manufacturing area was pulverized in what the British now term a "new era" in air bombardment

Returning pilots said weather conditions were so favorable they were able to observe that the second attack on Rostock, vital Baltic commercial port, was carried out with "good results," especially against the Heinkel aircraft works which suffered heavy damage in the previous bombing.

An official British announcement said that heavy type bombs were dropped on both the Heinkel works and the Neptune shipyard. More large fires were left burning in the city.

Night attacks were made against the docks at Dunkirk and airfields in occupied France and the low countries.

One Hudson bomber hit a supply ship off the Norwegian coast.

Two bombers were missing as a result of the night's operations.

It was declared that the raids will directly affect German plane and submarine production, since both the Heinkel and Neptune works were heavily battered, not to mention other heavy industrial plants, public utilities and workers' dwellings

Rostock was a principal port supplying German armies on the

PERIL: Mandalay Threatened As Japs Press Furious Drive

(By Associated Press)

NEW DELHI—Burma's defenders faced a sudden new peril today as the Japanese, with an almost spendthrift use of manpower, pushed swiftly forward to within about 100 miles of Mandalay in furious and confused fighting.

A Chungking communique indicated the Chinese-held left flank either had been rolled back or was in imminent danger.

Few details amplified the communique, which said the invaders had advanced about 80 miles northward from captured Loikaw to the area of Taunggyi under cover of continuous air attack.

A British communique today announced another air raid on Mandalay. It indicated that the front was fluid on the Chinese-defended side.

"Recent reports are confused regarding the Japanese progress in the northward drive through the Shan states," it said. "It is fairly clear that the drive has made progress"

The Chinese communique reiterated that the situation in the Kenangyaung sector on the west flank was unchanged. In the central sector continued fighting was reported around Tatkon, 30 miles north of Pyinmana, which the Chinese abandoned earlier their week.

The Chinese asserted the Japanese had lost 3,000 men in one week's fighting between the Swa river and Pyinmana and another 3,000 in four days in the vicinity of Pyinmana alone, while the Chinese altogether lost 1,000 killed and wounded with a ratio (in numerical superiority favoring the Japanese) of almost six to one.

The full significance of this burst of Japanese pressure aimed at Mandalay still is not apparent, but there is no doubt of the gravi-

HOLD: U. S., Filipino Troops Challenge Japs for 20th Week

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's forces on Corregidor and throughout the Philippines today continued to challenge vastly superior Japanese troops at every turn as the 20th week of the war drew to a close.

For the second consecutive day no communique was issued by the war department, but advices from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia indicated there was no change in the Philippine picture.

Since the Philippines are under MacArthur's command, he has taken over the issuance of communiques regarding action in the commonwealth, and army officials in the capital ceased temporarily putting out announcements to avoid duplication.

The latest Philippine communique from MacArthur stated briefly that "there was intermittent harassing fire on the fortified island (Corregidor); our batteries took hostile troop assemblies under fire."

The communique gave no details about the continuing battle of Manila bay, but military experts interpreted the official report as indicating that the Japanese still have not resumed their aerial attacks upon the fort.

Shelling of Japanese troop assemblies on Bataan supported the belief that Corregidor's main batteries are intact despite the numerous bombing and shelling attacks since the outbreak of war. Wainwright's gunners have taken a terrific toll of the Japanese.

Latest advices also indicated that the defenders of Panay island still are resisting Nipponese pres-

Tiny Tots Go to 'Special' Church

Did you fidget and squirm in the pews when father and mother took you to church as a youngster and the minister preached a "heavy" sermon?

Well, the tiny tots and young people of Mansfield's First Methodist church don't do that. Their elders have found a remedy in the nursery and junior church services held every Sunday morning. Camera and reporter describe in the Sunday News-Journal how this boon to childhood serves the double purpose of instructing children and providing a convenience for their parents.

War Spending to Be Raised 14 Billions

THE WAR TODAY

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
(Wide World War Analyst)

The closer we draw to the great Russo-German clash, which likely will be the decisive battle of the war, the greater is the urge among allied peoples for the opening up of a second front in western Europe to support the Soviet effort.

The most striking advocacy of this adventurous strategy comes from Britain's lease-lend coordinator in Washington, the powerful and outspoken Lord Beaverbrook. The "Beaver," as he is called in London, urges his own country to "strike out violently x x x even recklessly" to aid the Muscovites.

Coming from one so close to Premier Churchill, this stand has aroused enthusiastic hopes among supporters of a second front.

"This is a chance," said the "Beaver," "to bring the war to an end here and now. But if the Russians are defeated and driven out of the war, never will such a chance come to us again."

In holding that it is possible to end the conflict now, Lord Beaverbrook is following the line taken by Russian leaders, who have said that Hitler can be smashed this year if the Soviet gets help.

That this is the crucial moment to give the Reds every ounce of help possible is the consensus of Allied leadership. Whether this is the time to try invasion of western Europe is something which only the supreme command can decide.

Six months ago it probably would have been suicidal, partly because of lack of ships and other preparation and partyly because of Hitler's great strength and the mobility of his striking power.

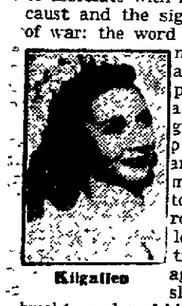
Since then, however, the arch aggressor has taken a fierce beating at the hands of the Reds, and his forces in western Europe have been weakened. Thus it may be the Allied council will decide that the time has come for an all-out gamble.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Yesterday In Paradise.

There is one word that shows often in the headlines on the news stands of Broadway that is hard to associate with horror and holocaust and the sights and sounds of war: the word is Hawaii. It is not easy to look at that word and picture tanks and anti-aircraft guns and bombproof shelters and men in helmets; easier it is to see green hills rolling and the leaves of palm trees moving against blue sky, slowly, and the bright scarlet of big flowers growing in the sunlight.



Kilgallen

What you know tells you how it is there now. But what you remember clings to the name Hawaii even in the face of headlines that are grim and warlike and give no excuse for recalling a place that was lovely in the sun, and lovely by the light of the moon, and above all, tranquil.

You remember it, though. Hawaii before December 7 was a place you could not forget if you had been there for a year, or an hour.

Remember That Hawaii?

The natives had no word for weather—the climate was so even, so unchangeable, that there was no reason to refer to it even in small talk. . . . Fishing boats were painted blue, to match the water. . . . Japanese children went to school from 8 to 3, and then attended their own private institutions of learning until suppertime. . . . Noon in Hawaii was 6:30 tomorrow morning in Shanghai. . . . A lei was a wreath of flowers which everyone wore as a necklace; it took a hundred ginger blossoms to make one. . . . There are only 12 letters in the Hawaiian alphabet.

Poi, the Hawaiian staff of life, was made from the taro root. . . . There were no docks, so the cattle swam to the boats. . . . And no billboards! . . . Half of the island of Oahu was a pasture. . . . There was a natural sliding bathtub on Kauai Waterfalls that formed a delightful chute-the-chute for bathers. . . . Octopus — called squid—was a popular dish. . . . Strawberries were imported and sold frozen. . . . Falling coconuts, by the grace of the Chamber of Commerce, never hit anyone on the head and there was a standing offer from that body of $800 to anyone who could prove he had been conked by one! . . . Elmer Leterman, the multi-millionaire, was the chief greeter of the Islands; he extended the hearty hand of friendship to a constant stream of notables from the mainland, from Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin to little Shirley Temple. . . . Travelers always cast off their leis at Diamond Head. The tradition was that if it floated to shore, the traveler would return one day.

Bathing was the daytime sport and fishing was reserved for night—by torch. . . . Gardenias sold for 5 cents a bunch and orchids were 25 cents apiece. . . . The national language was pidgin English. . . . The longest name on the Islands belonged to an inch-long fish. Humuhumunukahunkaapuapa. . . . The sands of Kauai made barking sounds when stepped on. . . . And on the same island was a musical salt water geyser. . . . The heating system for the National Park Headquarters came from the volcanic steam of Kilauea Crater. . . . Pineapples grew the size of regulation footballs. . . . The statues that dotted the coast were erected by the native Japanese to commemorate the memory of fishermen who lost their lives at sea . . . There was no hula dance for the famous "Song of the Islands."

Feather leis were worn as hatbands. They took six weeks to make and cost as high as $150. . . . The average temperature was 75 degrees by night or day.

Ti-leaf sliding was a popular sport—a snowless toboggan idea. You slid down the wet hills astride the leaves—something like a witch on a broomstick. . . . There were double rainbows and lunar rainbows. . . . And upside down waterfalls which flowed skyward. . . . a current of air took the spray up before it had a chance to descend.

The waves at Waikiki had a half-mile roll . . . There were wet caves and dry caves side by side. . . . The favorite massage was the Lomi Lomi—a native walking up and down your back in his bare feet. . . . There was no north or south or east or west. The directions were Ewa, Mauna (Mountain), Mauka (Sea) and Waikiki. . . . And it was the only place in the world that was more beautiful than people said it was. . . . Haina was always sung at the end of a song, meaning "this is the last of my story."

Haina. Aloha.

DIES BETWEEN FUNERAL CARS

Millersburg Man Takes Own Life in Garage at Mortuary.

MILLERSBURG—A verdict of suicide due to despondency over ill health was returned today following the discovery of the body of Amos Merillat, retired businessman, in the garage of the Elliott Funeral home here.

Dr. Luther High, Holmes county coroner, said Merillat had taken his life with a shotgun. His body was discovered by Otto Elliott after neighbors reported hearing a gun discharge. Elliott said the body was found on a blanket which had been spread on the floor between two funeral coaches.

The body is at the Elliott Funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

COMMANDER OF MARINES PROUD OF MEN'S AIM

Declares Men on Wake Knew How to Handle Guns; Praises Recruits.

(By Wide World)

PEARL HARBOR, T. H.—Brig. Gen. Harry K. Pickett, the lean, tanned commander of all the marines in the mid-Pacific, has watched his men make glorious history on Wake, Midway, Johnson, Palmyra, and the Hawaiian islands.

"I am proud of them all. I'll tell the world that," the general said.

It was General Pickett who three years ago was assigned to map out and arrange for the defense of the smaller ocean outposts now so valuable to the American war effort. He is credited in considerable measure with having made possible the valiant stand on Wake island.

He did not want to talk about that, but he was glad to take time out for a few comments on his men.

The general is 54—far from old for his rank—and while his hair is getting a wee bit thin on top, he looks even younger than his age.

It was a simple answer he gave as to how a handful of men were able to hold besieged Wake island for two weeks and to inflict heavy losses to enemy warcraft in the meantime.

"They knew how to handle their guns and they did it well," he said.

The general had a ready reply as to his new recruits.

"They are a fine group of men—intelligent, earnest, and they take their jobs seriously. I am proud of the way they are handling their work."

He added that the "marines as a whole in the mid-Pacific are as good as any I have ever seen anywhere in my entire service. They are doing a difficult job under difficult circumstances—but that goes for all our armed forces, of course."

It was nearly 30 years ago that General Pickett, a native of Ridgeway, S. C., gave up teaching of chemistry and mathematics for a second lieutenancy in the marines. He previously had graduated from Citadel college, Charleston, S. C.

He has served in Mexico, Guam, France, Santo Domingo, Haiti and various places on the mainland.

The general has a most engaging smile. But it fades when Wake is mentioned. The marines don't laugh about that. They're just waiting.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Charles Bratschie, 66, Had Been Ill For Months.

Mrs Charles Bratschie, 66, died yesterday at her home, 134 East Third street, following an illness of several months.

Born May 11, 1875, in Leesville, O., she came to Mansfield 15 years ago. She was a member of the First Methodist church

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Donald of Newville, and Lowell of Mansfield; one daughter, Mrs Harold Sturgeon of Mifflin township; one sister, Mrs. Wilda Cross of New Philadelphia; and two brothers, William and Irving Geisinger of Mansfield.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, in charge of Rev. E. G. Corwin, pastor of the First Methodist church. Burial will be in Biddle cemetery, Crawford county.

VESSELS ADDED TO LAKE FLEET

Big Ore Freighter Launched At Lorain Will Carry 18,600 Tons.

LORAIN —(AP)— The 639-foot iron ore freighter Benjamin F. Fairless, named for the president of U. S. Steel corporation, was launched here today with the expectation she would be operating before the close of this Great Lakes shipping season

The vessel is one of five new boats which will be the largest ore carriers on the lakes. Each will carry 18,600 tons of ore—sufficient to make steel for eight destroyers, the Pittsburgh Steamship company said.

Fairless' sister, Mrs. Harry Lash of Massillon, was sponsor for the craft at the American Ship Building company yard here.

The Great Lakes fleet of around 300 ore carriers is having its busiest season on record, seeking to bring more than 80,000,000 gross tons of ore to lower lakes mills from the Lake Superior district

Fairless, whose name the new ship honors, was born in 1890 at Pigeon Run, taught school at Rockville and Navarre, and attended Wooster college and Ohio Northern university. He entered the steel business in 1913 at Massillon, and from 1930 to 1935 was executive vice-president of Republic Steel corporation. In 1935 he became president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel, U. S. Steel's principal subsidiary, and in 1937 was named president of the parent concern.

ST. LOUIS GIVES WILD WELCOME TO PACIFIC NAVAL HERO O'HARE

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS — They're turning over St. Louis to Lieut. Commander Edward H. O'Hare today in the wildest welcoming celebration for a returning hero since Charles A. Lindbergh came back from his trans-Atlantic flight, but the young navy flyer is loath to accept it.

Mrs. Selma O'Hare, mother of the big fellow who downed five Japanese bombers and damaged a sixth in a battle over the Pacific, says he's scared stiff.

"Eddie appreciates—but doesn't understand — why he should get all this acclaim," Mrs. O'Hare explained. "And he's terrified by crowds. He's really shy and quiet. "Besides he says other fighters deserve just as much credit as he does. All are fighting for our country."

O'Hare, who grew up in St. Louis, will ride in a parade with his mother and his wife, the former Rita Wooster of Keokuk, Iowa. His sisters, Mrs Paul V. Palmer and Mrs. Phil E. Tovrea, both of Phoenix, Ariz., also will participate in the ceremonies.

His car will be flanked by an honor guard of two sailors, two marines and two coast guardsmen.

The parade winds up in front of Soldiers Memorial where Mayor William Dee Becker will give the flyer a big brass key to the city. A gold watch inscribed "from the proud and grateful city of St. Louis" also will be presented.

The demonstration, however, purposely was arranged to be brief. Mayor Becker asked that the public let O'Hare alone after the ceremonies.

The flyer, who was awarded the congressional medal of honor by President Roosevelt, will stay through Monday and is expected to spend most of the time with his family.

"Have you got something I could just roll up in and blot?"

Up and Down THE STREET

Parents and friends of army and navy men who have been sending two or more packages a week to training centers will be forced to limit their packages to one a week from now on in compliance with a new postoffice ruling established by the war and navy departments. This also applies to the packages mailed by the general public. The ruling was made in order to expedite the movement of vital war supplies that have been delayed by the flood of second, third and fourth class mail. Not more than one parcel post package may be accepted by the postoffice for mailing in any one week, when sent by, or on behalf of the same person or to, or for, the same addressee.

The lawn around the city's municipal building has a few bald spots put there because some of the trees around the building robbed the grass of sunlight. To offset this, city workers have trimmed the wide-spreading trees down to mere skeletons and have planted new grass seed around the building. Now office workers in the building are wondering whether the new grass or the trees will grow the fastest.

The blossoming fruit trees in and near Mansfield are showing fruit growers that their crop prospects were not seriously damaged by the heavy frosts early this week. Only the cherry, plum, and peach trees are in bloom so far, but most of them are literally loaded down with blossoms, forecasting good crops unless it turns cold again before the young fruit develops. A few apple trees are showing buds and orchardists said they will be in bloom in a week or 10 days.

BOOST SPURS FDR PROGRAM ON INFLATION

Total of 70 Billions to Be Spent Next Year Means $2,000 Per Family.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—A $14,000,000,000 increase in forecasted war spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1 today provided further incentive for President Roosevelt's forthcoming program to halt inflation.

Mr. Roosevelt was busily at work on the messages to congress and the nation he will deliver next week outlining his plans for controlling inflation—or, as he prefers to put it, further increases in the cost of living.

His program reportedly embraces more taxation, wage and rent controls, over-all price ceilings and, possibly, further credit curbs.

Budget Director Harold Smith prepared the way for the messages yesterday with the disclosure that war spending in the 1943 fiscal year will reach $70,000,000,000. That will be equal to $2,000 for each American family or $526 for each man, woman and child in the nation.

The increase in the $56,000,000,000 originally planned necessarily means further curtailment of civilian production and, if not countered must result in greater buying power and further depletion of purchaseable goods.

Smith gave some idea of what the new spending program, superimposed on the original estimates, will mean to the average family when he observed that approximately $50,000,000,000 of the national income will be left for civilian use.

Such a sum, he said, will provide "more of the necessities of life than during the depression but less than during the past year."

A concise picture will be given by the president in his message to congress on Monday. He then will report to the nation in a "fireside chat," probably Monday night.

In congress, fiscal experts attempting to devise 1943 tax bill were bewildered by the budget bureau's figures.

The house ways and means committee deliberated all of yesterday on the relative merits of corporation tax poposals presented by its own experts and by the treasury.

Ohio Will Erect Conscience Signs Along Highways

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The state of Ohio is going to put "conscience" signs along all major highways as a jibe at motorists who refuse to conserve tires, gasoline, oil and automobiles during the war.

According to Gov. John W. Bricker, the signs will read something like the following specimens:

"Is this trip necessary?"

"Are you conserving tires as much as possible?"

Bricker told a meeting of state sugar rationers about the plan today in Columbus. The work will be carried out by the state highway department.

Few persons realize the seriousness of the rubber situation, the governor said.

150 PRESENT AT BENEFIT BRIDGE

The Y. W. C. A. education committee welcomed close to 150 guests at a bridge party held at the building Friday night to obtain funds for financing the children's tap class that comes within the committee program.

Mrs. G. W. Marriott and Dr. K. E. Buhr were awarded first prizes for bridge and a dozen other prizes, all provided by the committee, were also presented.

The tap class gave a demonstration of its work during the evening to show the type of program that is being conducted for the group by Jack Berger.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT SUNDAY NIGHT

All-Girl Musical Organization Appears at Baptist Church For Evening Program.

Sacred and classical music will be heard at the concert to be given by the Mansfield All-Girl orchestra Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Miss Mary Jane Bellore will be featured in the vocals of several numbers, including "Abide With Me," with orchestral arrangement by the director, Will Kurtz, and "The Rosary."

Members of the Baptist Junior choir, under the direction of George Lake, will sing two numbers. Lawrence Frank, soloist, will be featured in two organ selections. Duo piano numbers and a trumpet solo by Eleanor Harrison will also be included on the program.

Orchestral personnel includes Miss Bellore, Elinore Cunning, Louise Hink, Eleanor Hattman, Olive Stricker, Arlene Dovenbarger, Doyl Norton, Eleanor Carver, Opal Robinson, Mary Armentrout, Dorothy Wagner, Mary Benninghoff, Martha Barton, Eleanor Harrison, Ruth Wagner, Ruth Baloy, Urith Funston, Catherine Ebbert and Mabel Eckert.

Lesson-Sermon Topic Announced

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. It will have for the Golden Text: "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Matthew 24:13.)

Included in the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon are the following correlative passages from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord" (Psalm 118:17). "'Now,' cried the apostle, 'is the accepted time: behold, now is the day of salvation,' —meaning, not that now men must prepare for a future-world salvation, or safety, but that now is the time in which to experience that salvation in spirit and in life" Science and Health, p. 39).

New Officers To Be Installed

During the morning service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday new officers will be installed.

Members of the session are Robert C. Remy, Dan R. Wolff, W. H. Goodenough, A. D. McKenzie and Charles G. Young. For the board of deacons are Mrs. O. C. McCormick, Mrs. J. M. Hill, Frank G. Mitchell, Mrs. D. O. Meese and Mrs. George Ingram. John W. Cook, L. B. Paste and Milo W. Hieber compose the board of trustees.

Worship service will begin at 10:45 a. m. at which time the pastor, Rev. D. N. Roller, will preach on "A Decisive Battle We Must Fight." Lillian B. Stambaugh, of Youngstown, soprano, will present the offertory solo, "The Message" by Kurtsteiner. The senior choir will sing the anthem, "The Creation" by Richter. Miss Mabel Zehner, organist, will play, "Meditation" by Bubeck. "Melody for the Bells of Berghall Church" by Sibelius, and "Allegro, from the Fourth Organ Concerto by Handel.

Missionary To Speak Sunday

Mrs. Elenore Nerac of the Congregational Christian committee for War Victims and Services will give a missionary talk at the morning worship service at the Malflower Congregational church Sunday at 10:15 a. m.

She came to this country last June through the assistance of the emergency rescue committee, created by American writers and scientists to rescue European intellectuals from Nazi tyranny. She is listed in the German "Who's Who" and also in the French edition of "La Femme Remarquable."

Prominent as an authoress she wrote her first book at the age of 15, while a student in college. For 10 years she played leading classical roles in Vienna and Munich. Following this time she left the stage to join the staff of literary collaborators of a review which opposed Hitler.

'Universal Quest,' Topic of Sermon

Basing his sermon on the scriptural text, John 12:20-26, Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will preach on "The Universal Quest" at 10:30 a. m. worship services tomorrow. The choir anthem is entitled "Be Thou Faithful."

Junior church services for children between the ages of six and eleven, inclusive, will be conducted in the basement of the church at 10:30 a. m. also.

Meetings scheduled during the week include choir rehearsal, 7 p. m., Wednesday and catechetical instruction, 10:30 p. m., Saturday.

Communion Service For Confirmands

Members of the confirmation class of the Grace Episcopal church confirmed by Rt. Rev. Beverley D. Tucker last Sunday will receive their first communion at a corporate service Sunday at 8 a. m. in the chapel. A fellowship breakfast will be served afterwards in the undercroft.

At 10:45 Rev. Glenn F. Lewis, rector, will preach on "Setting Our Feet Upon A Rock." Louise Krause Peterson, organist, will play "Prelude" by Clerambault, "Adagio" by Corelli and "Postlude" by Kuhns.

Other services Sunday include church social worship and instruction at 9:15 a. m. and Alfred Chabourel club for young people at 6 p. m. Members of Bexley Guild will sponsor a rummage sale Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Wayne McFadden as chairman.

Choir rehearsals will be Thursday at 4:15 and Saturday at 7 p. m.

Rev. Lewis will attend a conference at the College of Preachers in Washington, D. C. Monday through Saturday.

C. E. Societies To Meet In Shelby May 3

Annual spring convention of the Richland County Christian Endeavor Union will be held Sunday, May 3, in the Shelby Presbyterian church. The program is planned around the theme, "Victory Through Christ."

The afternon session will begin at 3 p. m. in charge of the intermediate societies with a play as the feature presentation. Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. with group singing as the diversion. Evening service will be conducted by the adult Christian Endeavors at 7 p. m.

John Olexa, student at Otterbein college, Westerville, will be the guest speaker for the evening meeting.

Reception For New Members Planned

At the First Christian church Sunday morning Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger will preach on the theme, "The Importance of Little Things." Anthem by the robed choir will be "Let the Earth Rejoice" by Williams. Mrs. H. H. Clingan, organist, will have three organ numbers: "Meditation" by Sturgis, "Meditation" by Kinder, and "Gloria in Excelsis" by Harrison.

On Friday evening there will be a reception for the 58 new members who were recently received into the membership of the church. It will be a covered dish dinner at 6:30.

R. S. Bemiller will preside for the program following the dinner and words of welcome will be given by J. B. Carter, Mrs. Audrey Tinkey, Joe Bertka, Joe Wilcox, M. D. Miller and Rev. Hagelbarger. The response for the new members will be given by Mrs. Edwin Horn. Special music will be given by Dolores Faust, Gwendolyn Rogers and Helen Hagelbarger.

Dr. White Accepts Presbyterian Call

Dr. J. Campbell White of New York City, has accepted a call to become the new pastor of the United Presbyterian church, it was announced today by A. Rust, jr., Sunday school superintendent. A unanimous call was extended to Dr. White by members of the church at a meeting held last week.

Dr. White was a former president of Wooster college and has been pastor of the West 44th street United Presbyterian church in New York City for the past 11 years. At one time he was a missionary to India under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

He is expected to arrive in Mansfield about May 15 and will occupy the church pulpit starting Sunday, May 17, Rust said.

First Methodists Have Busy Calendar

Many activities are planned for members of the First Methodist church for this week.

For the Sunday morning worship period at 10:30 a. m. Rev. E. G. Corwin, pastor, will speak on "Spiritual Nutrition." Special music will be given by the choir. The solo number will be presented by Mrs. Eleanor Stone Smith, whose selectiin is "The Earth is the Lord's."

Nursery school is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. and Junior church for the same time. There will be a joint meeting of the Wesley Fellowship group and the Epworth league at 7 p. m. at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown of Wooster will be the guest speakers, using as their topic, "Missionary Work in China and India."

Youth Bible study will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. Queen Esthers will meet at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Burkhart, 487 Wood street, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. J. J. Kindel, 435 Davis road, will be hostess to the members of the Grace Guild Monday at 8 p. m. Lucretia Hedges society members will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Lisle, 238 Blymyer avenue, Friday at 8 p. m.

Confirmation Classes To Conduct Rally

The 1942 Confirmation classes of the First Lutheran church will hold a rally Sunday afternoon and evening. Special activities and programs will include a reception and luncheon, presented by the Luther league at 5:30 p. m.; combined meeting with the Luther league at 6:30 p. m.; and a pageant entitled "Confirmation Lights" at 7:30 p. m.

Portraying highlights in the life of a confirmand, the pageant was especially written for the occasion by George Hoover, superintendent of the adult department of the Sunday school. The following people will take part in the drama: Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Roscoe Traxler, Mrs. Earl Dye, Charles Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Sharrock and child, L. J. Cashell, Russell McCullough Harry Simmons, Hobart Cashell, Fred Herbrand, Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, Miss Shirley Boock and six pupils of the Sunday school primary department, and the entire confirmation class.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes George Hoover, chairman; Mrs. George Bell, Mrs. John Linsemayer, Russell McCullough, and George Klippel, jr.

At 9:45 a. m., Rev. Grover E. Swoyer will use "When Ye Do Well and Suffer For the Lord" as his sermon subject. Special music for this service will include the choir anthem, "The Lord Is My Strength" by Wooler and the offertory hymn "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" sung by the quartette.

Meetings scheduled for the week include the Earnest Workers, 2 p. m., Monday; and Luther League board, 8 p. m., Tuesday.

Stage Parish House Dedication Service

Services dedicating the new parish house of the First Congregational church will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow when the entire Church school will meet there for the first time in the new building. The house is situated at 514 Park avenue west.

Regular worship services will continue to be held in the auditorium of John Simpson Junior high school. Rev. Peter Young will use "Never Be Anxious" as his sermon topic for tomorrow's service at 10:45 a. m.

Meetings to be held at the parish house next week include Pilfrom Fellowship at 7 p. m., Sunday; dessert luncheon of the Women's Association at 1 p. m. Tuesday, with Mrs. Arthur Cline, Mrs. Rex Averill. Mrs. J. Hugh Ward, and Mrs. O. W. Owens as hostesses; and a houseworming party and reception for new members at 8 p. m., Thursday, given by the deacons, junior deacons and deaconesses of the church.

'Star That Never Goes Out,' Subject

Rev. Charles F. Sheriff will preach on the subject, "The Star That Never Goes Out," at the Sunday morning service at the St. Matthew's Lutheran church at 10:30. The choir will furnish the music, singing "Saviour When Night Involves the Skies" by Shelley, and Mrs. Sheriff will give the vocal number, "The Ninety and Nine" by Campion.

Luther league will convene at 6:30 p. m. Sunday. Members of the Martin Luther class will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan, Overlook road, Tuesday night. Announcement is being made of the annual Mother-Daughter banquet to be held at the church parlors on May 11. Red Cross sewing will be held in the Parish House, Thursday.

SEEKS RENOMINATION

MARION —(U.P.)— Congressman Frederick C. Smith of the Eighth Ohio district announced today that he will seek Republican renomination for a third term.

Girl Scouts Delivering Cookies Today

Mansfield Girl Scouts circulated throughout the city today delivering boxes of Girl Scout cookies that had been ordered by friends of the organization throughout the week. The Scouts delivered approximately 4,400 boxes today after selling an additional 1,300 at two downtown sales earlier in the month. Bowman school Scouts chalked up a sales record of 420 boxes with Troop 21 running a close second. A group of the Bowman Scouts are pictured here as they prepared to make deliveries. They are: back row, left to right, Mary Roadpouch and Patricia Lorentz; front row, left to right, Mary Ann Brehmer, Jane Fidler, Marilyn Logan and Naomi Blank.

REGISTRATIONS START AT NOON and tomorrow are from noon to 6 p. m., and on Monday from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

One representative from a district board—either a member or an advisory board member—was on hand at each registration point. Five volunteer workers were assisting at each registration point.

Men registering this week-end are not subject to military service. They will be given serial numbers but no order numbers such as were issued in previous registrations.

The United States Employment Service will mail detailed occupational questionnaires to the registrants shortly. Thus all noncombatants will serve as a labor reservoir of manpower to supply demands for skilled workers in war industries, and at the same time relieve younger men for military service.

Registrants this week-end have only to answer a few questions as to name, age, residence and birth.

State draft officials estimated that approximately 700,000 men would be signed up in the current registration, boosting total Ohio registrations to about 2,056,000. Monday is officially registration nationally, but draft authorities in Ohio and a few other states also set today and Sunday for convenience of registrants.

Many of Richland county's officials will be among the men registering this week-end, and the same is true among state and national officials. President Roosevelt, as commander-in-chief, technically is exempt but will register at the White House.

A registration booth will be set up in the capitol rotunda to accommodate approximately 400 senators and representatives who are within the designated age limits.

Under the amended selective service act, youths between 18 and 20 can be registered but state draft officials in Columbus said they had received no indication from national headquarters as to whether they should be signed later. Such registrants would not be subject to immediate draft.

FOUR ESCAPE IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Four persons escaped injuries in two accidents yesterday afternoon on highways in the Mansfield area, state highway patrolmen said today.

Cars driven by Fay G. Brindle, 53, of Mansfield R. D. 2, and Lawrence J. Newman, 41, of Cincinnati, were slightly damaged when they came together on U. S. route 42, north of Mansfield. Patrolmen said that the accident occurred when Miss Brindle attempted to make a left turn off the highway as Newman was passing.

In a similar accident on state route 314, two miles south of U. S. route 42, cars driven by Wilford G. Hopton, 23, of Shelby and John L. Poland, 35, of Mt. Gilead collided when Hopton started to turn from the highway into a private drive as Poland was passing, according to officers.

COUNTY NURSE IN AUSTRALIA

A former Richland county girl has arrived in Australia for service as an army nurse according to word received today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams, Mansfield R. D. 1.

The Williams family received a cable from Miss Aleen Williams saying only three words, "Safe, Australia, Well." Since June Miss Williams has been stationed at Camp Forest, Tenn., and her home previous to that time had been in Memphis for several years.

The army nurse is a graduate of Shelby high school and had her nurses' training at St. Joseph's hospital in Memphis. She enlisted a year ago.

northern Russian front, It will be so no longer.

No sooner had the British bombers which conducted the second successive damaging assault against Rostock's war production factories returned than other RAF fliers struck out anew across the channel to pummel the Nazi-occupied coast of France.

Observers on the Folkestone shore of England heard heavy gunfire along the French channel coast and what they believed to be periodic anti-aircraft fire as British craft continued to carry the air war to the Nazis. The point of attack was reported in the vicinity of Cap Griz Nez.

Coastal towns of England during the night and early morning suffered bombings by Nazi planes, and although they resulted in a number of casualties and considerable residential property damage they were on a minor scale.

London evening newspapers were jubilant over the large successes being scored by the RAF in its devastating attacks against reich industries, naval bases and airdromes.

'Even at the height of its power the Luftwaffe never launched raids of such intensity," said the Evening Star.

The concerted, shattering assaults have convinced the people that the RAF not only means to destroy Germany's industrial war centers but is fully capable of the job now.

The Daily Mail proclaimed that the assaults had brought about the coining of a new word, "lubeckings," to describe devastating aerial assaults.

"Lubeckings now has been coined in the English language as an example of a supreme blitz," said the newspaper. "Coventrate (originated after the severe raids on Coventry) has now gone out of vogue."

As the RAF pursued its attacks against occupied Europe throughout the daylight hours large numbers of planes were observed flying at high altitude down the Thames estuary shortly after noon headed for the channel.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—or if it's a long trip better go by train or bus.

Some restaurant patrons are still refusing sugar in their coffee—even if it is scarce.

Hitler was thoughtful enough to ask that no gifts be sent to him on his recent birthday—thus relieving folks of making the decision themselves.

Note of Mild Optimism Sounded

AFTER a week during which reverberations of last Saturday's air raids over Japanese cities were unabated, with Nippon evidencing a bad case of jitters, a world survey gave United Nations observers more basis for mild optimism than had been evidenced through the cheerless winter, when the advent of spring was being anticipated with a feeling of dread.

At home War Production Board Chairman Donald Nelson cheerfully announced: "The United States is over the hump on military production," and Secretary of War Stimson said: "Things are beginning to move, and to move in the right direction. We are getting pretty near the stage of being ready for an offensive."

From Australia, Army Minister Forde expressed the view: "The war has turned in our favor." and China's Foreign Minister Soong was of the opinion, "We are progressing." Leighton McCarthy, Canada's minister to the United States, put it thus: "We are getting places. Everybody seems to be more cheerful."

It was after hearing secret testimony of high-ranking American officials that Congressman Cannon, of Missouri, said: "We are already reaching a turn in the war."

Few things could be more harmful, at this stage, than spread of belief that the war is "about over" and that the United Nations are nearing victory. For that is not true and such an idea, if it became prevalent, might cause some people to feel that the national war effort could be diminished and that further sacrifices were needless.

But an attitude of discouragement, associated with an impression that the United Nations are engaged in a hopeless struggle against the Axis powers, would be almost equally harmful at this time and it is important to avoid both extremes.

What should be increasingly realized is that the United Nations CAN, MUST and WILL win the war, but that this outcome is still far from accomplishment.

Social Justice Ban Broadened

WHEN Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's weekly propaganda publication, "Social Justice," was barred from the mails last week because of its un-American and pro-Axis attitude in time of war, it was quite naturally assumed by many people that the ban would also apply against other methods of transportation and distribution.

This is not the case, however, as it has been common practice to transport, by express or truck, a number of the gutter type of magazines that are barred from the mail but which have other ways of reaching news stands and readers.

But in the matter of seditious publications the attitude of government is somewhat different and it is announced by Attorney General Biddle that anyone who engages in the transportation or distribution of Social Justice, while it is barred from the mails, will be subject to severe penalties under the Trading With the Enemy Act.

The wonder is that, after being deprived of the mailing privilege, further effort should be made to distribute the publication in other ways. The tolerance accorded Father Coughlin and his Social Justice organ in peacetime cannot be safely extended to conditions in a nation at war.

Lower State Budgets Aimed Toward

NO NEW TAXES, is the cheering news. This does not come from Uncle Sam, who will be forced to levy new taxes, and plenty. It comes from the states, which from reports of observers, are going to be patriotic enough to get along this year on what money they have.

Eighteen states have surpluses, which should see them through. Five, California, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts and Michigan, have set up emergency funds for defense activities.

Other states may do as well. If money leaves the pocket, it has much the same effect on the victim whether it goes to keep up state activities or to help win the war. Of the two, there is no doubt which taxpayers would prefer. Lower state budgets mean more money for weapons and a nearer victory.

'Absorption' of Japs Improbable

JAPAN'S attempted conquest of China is now being recognized as no more than a start in the larger program of aggression that had been in the minds of Nipponese militarists for several generations. The United States was a long time awakening to its own peril and comparatively few regarded the invasion of China as a vital matter. "The Chinese will eventually absorb them all," was rather frequently heard a few years ago. But that now seems unlikely.

In the past, China has been repeatedly "conquered" by barbarian tribes. The Manchus, who ruled up to the establishment of the republic in 1911, were the latest. Such tribes eventually were absorbed, largely through their desire to adopt Chinese ways. This was in part because they knew themselves to be inferior. Even more, as wanderers from the steppes and the forests, they were unequal to organizing, taxing and administering a civilized state. They had to learn Chinese ways to survive.

This is not true of the Japanese Whatever we may think of them, their government is equal to modern conditions and competition of the rest of the world. There is no necessity for their merging with the Chinese order. If they conquer China, they will remain apart from the Chinese for a long, long time just as the Germans remain apart from their victims.

Music is feeling the war. Phonograph records are the latest victim. Shellac, a vital feature in record-making, comes from the East Indies. Hence no more shellac.

As Robert Quillen puts it, "A paragrapher knows when he rings the bell on human nature. All the people he knows think he is taking a crack at them."

Eleanor Roosevelt told a group of newspaper women that she will "go right on talking"—and one youthful reporter mistook this for news.

THE NEW ICE AGE

Debate Value of Ships and Planes

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

THE BATTLESHIP is still supreme, according to orthodox sea-fighting professionals. It's obsolete already, and will soon be as much so as the dodo, according to aviation enthusiasts. The subject is hotly debated between 'em in Washington and also, from all accounts, between other countries' rival groups of experts.

Submarines are a factor in the equation also.

A sub isn't very well equipped to shoot down a plane, but it can torpedo a surface boat quite conveniently. And, from overhead, flyers, at the same time, can bomb it. This makes it so vulnerable assert disciples of the new school of warfare, that the bigger type of water-borne belligerent craft has become almost a liability rather than an asset. It's agreed that plenty of little pewees, like destroyers, continue to be needed, to run errands and overhaul merchantmen—but not big battleships.

Shucks, says the battleship's defenders, submarines are a nuisance and it's a fact that battleships do need flocks of planes to scare enemy planes out of their adjacent atmosphere and to spot subs, swishing around underneath, but the battleships are the main consideration—they're real sea strength.

Huh, rejoin the airmen, according to you battleships' own account, you have to have planes to protect you. If you have to be everlastingly protected, how can you consider yourselves as anything more than an aviatorial adjunct, for a few surface purposes, like mass landings? And even those can be provided for by mere transports. We'll protect THOSE, without any of your co-operation.

Pro and Con.

But you can't stay in the air long enough for trans-oceanic strife, insist the surface warriors.

No, concede the aviators, but that's our plane carriers' mission—to take us close up to such shores as we want to scoot over and just heave to, while we take off from 'em. Talk about adjuncts? Plane carriers are OUR aviatorial adjuncts. You battleshippers aren't even an adjunct. You're nothing but a responsibility.

Of course a plane carrier has to be protected, too, but it has its own planes right on hand, to attend to it.

Another item mentioned by the flyers is that at least half a dozen planes can be manufactured at about the same rate as one surface ship, or faster than that, in comparison with a big battleship.

The nub of the battleshipers' case is that we must control the sea, to win the pending war, and that only battleships can control it. The aviators' reply is that aviation can control battleshipping. They cite Japan's activities in support of their contention, pointing out that the Japs have a pretty sizable battleship fleet, but have depended principally upon their flyers for their recognized accomplishments, to date, in the Pacific.

With experts differing, as they do, a layman isn't entitled to much of an opinion.

Aviation's scored formidably but, since it's too new for the professionals themselves to agree on, as to its merits, in comparison with older-fashioned methods of warfare, all the bystanders can do is to look on and wonder how the old and new systems will stack up relatively in the long run.

Man About Manhattan

Honesty Rewarded

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Horatio Alger would have admired Mike Calabrese. . . . Mike is a hack driver in New York. . . . Recently he short-changed a customer $4.50, though unintentionally. The man had given him a $5 note instead of a $1.

So Mike went to the police and turned the money in. . . . "It ain't mine," Mike said. "It ain't mine."

The papers carried mention of this manifestation of honesty on the part of our cabbies. One newspaper even editorialized the incident. . . . This was how Major Bowes became aware of Mike Calabrese and his aversion to coin not legitimately earned.

So the major penned a little note to Mike, inviting him to come as a guest, and bring his family, to see the Bowes' show. . . . And in the letter he enclosed $50.

Note: It isn't likely that $50 bills will reward similar incidents if the town breaks out in a sudden rash of turned in "lost" purses. . . . Mike got there first. . . . From now on, virtue, as somebody has said, will have to be its own reward.

BROADWAY springsong: It was one of the first warm days of spring and a little earth worm shoved an oak leaf out of the way and thrust its head into the warm April sunlight. . . . He blinked a little, and looked around. . . . "Flowers," he said, "and all the trees have new green twigs. . . . Ah, this is wonderful." . . .

Just then he spied another little earth worm who had apparently just thrust its head into the warm sunlight. . . . "Isn't this wonderful," he cried to the newcomer. . . . "The warm sunlight and the roses and the dandelions. . . ."

"Yes," agreed the other little earth worm.

"Spring is doing something to me," went on the first worm. . . . "I feel romantic. . . . Let's get married."

I HAVE heard many people sing Blues in the Night. . . . But not the way Carol Bruce sings it. . . . Johnny Mercer, who wrote it, ought to buy her a box of candy. . . . When Carol gets through with it Frankie and Johnnie, and Valiant Is the Word for Carrie are pale carbon copies. . . . I saw her at the Copacabana, leaning into a frosted spotlight, with a gardenia in her hair, singing. . . . "From Natchez to Mobile . . . from Memphis to St. Joe. . . ." Ever since then the song has haunted me.

George Ross, World-Telly Broadway observer, comes up with a tag-line to Ben Hecht's recent broadside at the drama critics, who panned his show. The Hobo News, it seems, wrote Hecht requesting an interview. . . . "When I'm in New York," wrote Hecht, "I'll be glad to do so. . . . I am all for hoboes, except those masquerading as drama critics."

TODAY IN HISTORY

Guglielmo Marconi, Italian electrician sometimes called the father of radio, was born this date in 1874. Like many inventors, Marconi profited by the discoveries of others. The story of radio might readily be traced to Heinrich Hertz who in 1887 discovered the waves which are the foundation of wireless communication. Marconi put the discovery to practical use and one day in the year 1901, stationed at Hospital Point, Newfoundland, he received the first wireless signal ever transmitted across the Atlantic.

Timely Editorial

Ethics on a Baseball.

Baseball fans, in the mass, can be pretty trying. They have, on occasion, been rowdy, unfair, loudmouthed and a lot of other things. But down underneath they are, as always, a fairly decent lot. Until this season it was the custom, hallowed by long usage, for fans to retain the baseballs which happened to go into the stands. The ushers and special policemen used to try to retrieve these balls but it was a hopeless task.

This year the announcement was made that such baseballs, if thrown back to the playing field, would be saved and turned over to the men in the armed services, who need baseballs. The fans took to the idea at once.

In the opening game at the Polo Grounds 25 were thrown back by the fans. At this rate, by the time the season is finished the service ball clubs should have all the balls they need. Obviously, the hearts of the fans are in the right place.—New York Herald Tribune.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Republicans Favor All-Out War, Committee Drops Isolation Stand

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

EVER SINCE Republican congressmen frustrated Democratic President Wilson's plan to take America into the League of Nations after World war I many U. S. voters have associated Republicanism with isolationism. This impression has persisted even though Republicans sponsored the Kellogg-Briand peace pact and the Nine Power Treaty concerning Asia.

Now America is at war again, and congressional elections are coming up. GOP leaders on the national committee were acutely conscious of their party's reputation for isolationism when they met in Chicago early in the week.

Committee Chairman Joseph Martin insisted that his party would rather "win the war, and win it quickly, than win an election."

Wendell Willkie, the 1940 presidential candidate and famed as an anti-isolationist, brought the issue to a head when he demanded that the party "not only repudiate completely and absolutely the doctrines of isolationism" but recognize that America must take an active role in world affairs after the war.

Taft vs. Willkie.

He proposed a resolution calling upon the committee to pledge to "undertake now and in the future whatever just and reasonable international responsibilities may be demanded in a modern world."

The pre-war isolationist, Senator Robert Taft, counted-opined that it would be a "great mistake" for the GOP to commit itself to post-war action. He offered a much milder resolution pledging "unqualified and aggressive support to the president" and reportedly making no post-war commitments.

All one afternoon the committee argued whether the Willkie resolution was too strong. The debate reportedly centered on Willkie's phrase "just and reasonable international responsibilities."

Finally the committee emerged with a compromise. It read: "We realize that after this war the responsibility of the nation will not be circumscribed within the territorial limits of the United States: that our nation has an obligation to assist in the bringing about of an understanding, comity and cooperation among the nations of the world. . . ."

It also called for a relentless prosecution of an offensive war, whatever it may cost in wealth, energy and human life.

Quotes

Senator Bone: "If cocktail parties would win the war, the national capital would have it won."

Leon Henderson, price administrator: "A few chiselers can do a great deal of harm to the operation of rationing and to morale. The country is in no mood to let chiselers get away with it. Our policy will be to hit chiselers hard and fast."

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Robert H. Hinckley is tackling the biggest air-conditioning job in history.

He wants to "air-condition" the whole country. Lest that raise a picture of a vast sealed dome stretching from Seattle to Miami and Boston to San Diego, with filters going full blast day and night, let me hasten to make clear what Hinckley means.

Hinckley is assistant secretary of commerce for air. To him it's not enough that America be "air-minded."

THIS and succeeding generations." he explains, "must become what I call 'air-conditioned' if the United States is to be a nation on wings, which it is surely going to be.

"When I say air-conditioned I mean that we must become conditioned to the air in just the same way that we are conditioned to the ground and the machines of the ground.

"Today we pilot an automobile along the ground as easily as we walk, with as little conscious thought or effort. We must learn to pilot an airplane through the air with the same sure, almost automatic responses."

The announcement that aeronautics is to be taught in the nation's high schools was a big slap on the back for genial bald-headed Bob Hinckley. The Civil Aeronautics administration, under Hinckley, and the Office of Education, backed by the army and navy, are diving into plans that they hope will let this country catch up with Nazi Germany, where such training was begun back in the middle '30s.

Hitler Youth were building model planes in the primary schools in those days, and older boys were skimming the landscape in gliders and sailplanes. A few years later they were dive-bombing London and Crete.

CAA launched a test program involving 317 students in 13 colleges and universities in 1939. After France fell congress authorized a great expansion of this program.

"All told," Hinckley pridefully declares, "we've taught almost 75,000 young Americans to fly. Some 15,000 of them are now flying for the army and navy."

THE training program is centered entirely on the war effort now. Some 45,000 students are to be put through the elementary flying course each year, along with 31,000 mechanics.

But to Hinckley that's still not enough. He's waiting for the day when young Americans will start aviation education in high school—perhaps even in the lower grades. Not just because of the need for military pilots, either. Hinckley is looking farther than that—to the day when America will be "air-conditioned."

"The world is changing under the influence of the airplane," he tells you. "Every student, whether boy or girl, should know the why and wherefor."

Daily Bible Thought

Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? Declare if thou hast understanding.—Job 38:4.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"Wouldn't it be a smart move for us to lay in a supply of milk."

At Home

The Press In Wartime.

Some believe Japan may soon be ready to call it quits with the United States. Early in the week Tokyo broadcast to Christian America that Japan's leading Christian, Toyohiko Kagawa, and other Nipponese Christians are praying daily "for an early conclusion of the war." Kagawa is well known to millions of U. S. Methodists.

And in Europe, rumors are seeping out of Rome that Italians are trying to arrange for a peace with the Allies.

Perhaps it was reports such as these that inspired Archibald MacLeish, head of the Office of Facts & Figures, to call upon American newspapermen to turn the full power of their papers against an Axis peace offensive which he predicted would be launched in coming months.

Crack-Downs.

As congress was investigating international patent pools and as Assistant Attorney General Arnold was testifying that production of numerous basic war materials had been impeded by national and international cartels, "most of them reared under the umbrella of the patent privilege," FDR moved in. He directed the government to seize all patents controlled directly or indirectly by alien enemies. This would include patents ostensibly owned by Americans but turned over to them by aliens only to hide control. Further, these patents will not be permitted to revert to alien hands after the war as they did after the first World war.

The navy took over operation of three plants of the Brewster Aeronautical corporation, maker of combat planes, on FDR's order. FDR was dissatisfied with the management. Naval officials said the company had failed to produce any finished planes and operated at only 40% of capacity in parts.

On Saving Soldiers.

Medical opinion has long held that if a serious battle wound is to be treated surgically it must be done within six hours. During the Pearl Harbor attack wounded men were brought into medical stations in such numbers that many could not be operated upon until the second and third days. As a stop-gap surgeons freely sprinkled sulfanilamide, the miracle drug, over the gashes. They found that the sulfanilamide worked, that the postponed operations were successful.

Abroad

Jitters In Tokyo.

All week the Japanese squirmed, hollered foul, contradicted themselves, fished ignominiously for information, betrayed their nervousness by signaling repeated false air raid alarms.

In broad daylight, they admitted American bombers had swooped over the heart of their island empire and smashed at the huge capital of Tokyo, the ports of Yokohama and Kobe and the aircraft production center of Nagoya.

America's main concern, of course, was to allow the bombers to reach bases safely out of reach of the Japanese before announcing any information it might have.

Chinese jubilantly predicted that Japan would be compelled to tie up much of her air power for home defense.

Disorders Shake France.

"Chief of the government, minister of foreign affairs, interior and information: Pierre Laval."

So was headed the listing of the new French government announced this week. Pro-Axis, British-hating Laval's intentions weren't questioned. It was pretty generally agreed that he had made great promises to Hitler in return for his restoration to power, and that he would attempt to deliver the French navy, even colonies, over to Germany.

How far he could go with his promises was the question.

Even as he addressed the French people upon assuming his new title, 30 more French hostages were under a German death sentence at Rouen as the result of a railway wreck in which many Nazi soldiers were killed.

The Berlin radio, discussing the new pro-Axis French set-up, conceded that Laval's government was confronted with "a difficult task."

Chinese to the Rescue.

Like locust the infiltrating Japanese spread over the oil fields of West Burma. British sappers just had time to burn and blast 6,000 of the oil wells, then run.

Seven thousand of the Britons didn't get away. They found themselves encircled at Yenangyaung, along with 100 of their supply trucks.

Chinese riflemen, under the command of U. S. Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell, rushed to Yenangyaung and in a furious battle overwhelmed the Japanese, chased them out of the town and freed the encircled Britons. A most dangerous Japanese spearhead was broken.

People

Opinion on Racism.

For a decade the Nazis have hammered at their theme that the German race is being strengthened by being "purified." Such idears are poppycock, Philadelphia Anthropologist M. P. Ashley-Montague told the American Association of Physical Anthropologists meeting at Harvard.

He said that racial mixtures, "far from causing impurities, produces a purifying effect in that many defective traits of the parents are elminated in the offspring."

As to Nazi abhorrence of intermixing with Jews, the anthropologist opined:

"In a marriage between German and Jew, the German would get by far the better of the bargain."

Misplaced Benevolence.

Anxious to do their parts to keep soldiers happy, girls at the Grover Cleveland high school in Elizabeth, N. J., mixed up a huge batch of cookies and picked at random from a list of army forts the destination of the cookies. Their fingers lighted on Fort Lincoln, Neb.

Soon the thank-you notes came back, but were stamped "enemy mail." The cookies, they learned, to their chagrin, had been gratefully received by enemy aliens interned at Fort Lincoln.

In Short

Announced: That beginning May 15 gasoline rationing will begin along the eastern seaboard. The general motorist will probably be restricted to 2½ to five gallons a week.

Created: By FDR, a nine-member War Manpower Commission headed by Federal Security Administrator Paul C. McNutt. The commission was given all-embracing power to mobilize the nation's manpower and womanpower for war labor jobs.

Awarded: America's highest military honor, the Congressional Medal of Honor, to Edward H. O'Hare, for perhaps the "most daring single action in the history of combat aviation." Singlehanded, he shot down five Japanese planes, crippled a sixth in a Pacific air battle. FDR made the award, his first of the war. O'Hare was also promoted two grades to lieutenant commander.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

SEASON ENDS FOR ART STUDY CLUB

Members Tell of Achievements In Art; Elect Officers for Next Year, at Home of Mrs. C. K. Smaltz.

THE HOME of Mrs. C. K. Smaltz, 634 West Fourth street, was the scene Friday of the last meeting of the Art Study club for the current season. Mrs. Carl Spangler and Mrs. M. V. Scouten were associate hostesses. Guests were Mrs. David Martin, Mrs. Walter Ober and Mrs. David Carl Martin.

Thirty-one members responded to roll call by telling of their favorite achievements in art. Many clever responses were given. The members showed pictures they had painted and other articles they had made.

The club unanimously elected officers nominated by Mrs. Richard Fensch, Mrs. Kenneth Buhr and Mrs. Ray Hammer. Those who will serve during the coming year are Mrs. William Keefe, president; Mrs. Boyd Wierman, vice president; Mrs. Lutz, secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Kell, treasurer.

When refreshments were served Mrs. Ober and Mrs. David Martin presided at the dining room table which was beautifully decorated in pastel shades. Centerpiece was of jonquils and favors were little May baskets.

Annual picnic of the club will take place in August. Date and place will be announced later.

Garden Clubs Have Joint Meeting Friday

Mrs. Carlton Fernyak opened her home on Park avenue west to 22 members of the Johnny Appleseed Garden club and 17 members of the Buckeye Garden club for a joint meeting Friday afternoon. Mrs. Louis Wenger was associate hostess.

President of the Buckeye group, Mrs. Leonard Hautzenroeder, called the meting to order. Speaker for the day was Mrs. Wallace Campbell, whose subject was "Through the Window Pane," a talk about birds.

Centerpiece for the luncheon table was of magnolia blossoms. Mrs. Henry Huston had charge of the special floral arrangement for the occasion. Next meeting of the Buckeye Garden club will be held at the home of Mrs. Tom Siegenthaler, Brae Burn road. Mrs. Tom Ford, Alta-West road, will entertain the Johnny Appleseed Garden club. Both meetings will take place on May 8.

SERVICE MEN FREE

SPENCER, Mass.—(U.P.)—As his contribution to national defense, Costello Gobi, a barber, advertises that he will give free service to all men called to arms and all men home on furloughs in uniform.

Anita Stebelton, Bride-to-Be, Honored Friday

Honoring her daughter, Anita, Mrs. Virginia Stebelton, 89 Home avenue, entertained 15 guests at a miscellaneous shower last evening. Miss Stebelton will become the bride of Richard Hildreth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Hildreth, at 2 p. m. on May 2 in the South Main Street Evangelical church.

A sprinkling can was suspended from the chandelier. From it, pink streamers extended to each gift. Bridge and five hundred were enjoyed. High score prize in bridge was won by Mrs. A. J. McHugh and Mrs. D. Pennell. Mrs. H. M. Hissong was recipient of the award in five-hundred.

When refreshments were served at the small tables, decorations included lighted pink tapers and bouquets of roses, gladioli and snapdragons. Mrs. Stebelton presented her daughter with a gift of crystal.

Another miscellaneous shower will be given in Miss Stebelton's honor at the Staiger tea room on April 28. Hostess will be the Misses Betty Blackstone, Elaine Crall, Eleanor Laver and Naomi Hamblin.

Astowela Garden Club Meets at Women's Club

Hostesses to the Astowela Garden club at the Women's Club on Friday were Mrs. William Althouse and Mrs. P. J. Kelly. Mrs. George Gillespie was a guest. Program presented by Mrs. William Marquis was entitled "Planning and Planting the Small Garden." The rooms were decorated with spring flowers and branches from flowering shrubs.

Mrs. Howard Keene presided at the table when a buffet luncheon was served. Eighteen members were in attendance. Next meeting will be held at 12:45 p. m. on May 8 at the home of Mrs. L. A. Ott, 391 West Third street.

Garden Study Club Members Plan for Tea

Mansfield Garden Study club members held a meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. S. Valmore, Cook road. Twelve members were in attendance. Mrs. L. D. Bower made the arrangement for the day which included jonquils, narcissus and daffodils in a cut glass container. Luncheon was served at small tables attractively decorated with spring flowers.

During the business session, which was conducted by Mrs. Charles Birch, club president, plans were made for the Tulip tea and musicale to be held on May 22 in the parlors of the Central Methodist church. Mrs. Margaret Moeller of Macedonia, who is president of the Garden club of Ohio, will be the honored guest at this affair. During the afternoon trees which the group is planting at the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school will be dedicated. The club has adopted the landscaping at the school as a project.

Guild Plans For Mother's Day Banquet

Meeting of St. John's Guild was held in the St. John's Evangelical church parlors recently with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Harry Beidel, Mrs. Edith Beilstein and Mrs. Ralph Damlos. Program and prayer were conducted by Mrs. Paul Saleste.

Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Anna Fiedler. Mrs. Katherine Klinger presented the story. Thirty-three members answered to roll call during the business session. Lunch was served by the committee.

The Guild will have a Mother's day banquet in the church parlors on May 6. This will be a covered-dish dinner. Mothers of Ladies' Aid society members are invited to attend.

EVERYTHING GOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. —(U.P.)—The Better Business bureau warned against an alleged Cuban, exponent of the "good neighbor" policy. The warning reads: "The gentleman's accent is good. His conversation is good. His references are good. His appearance is good. Only, his checks are not."

Organist and Soprano To Present Recital

Last in a series of organ recitals by Miss Mabel Zehner will be presented at the First Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Miss Zehner will be assisted by Miss Lillian Stambaugh of Youngstown, soprano soloist in the quartet at the First Presbyterian church in New Castle, Pa., where Miss Zehner was organist and director for two years before coming to Mansfield.

First group of organ selections on tomorrow afternoon's program will consist of "Prelude in E Minor," by Dethier; "Canon in B Minor," by Schumann; "Fugue in D Major," by Guilmant. Miss Stambaugh will sing "Lascia Ch'io Pianga," by Handel; "Prayer," by Edmundson; and "God Is Our Refuge," by Ward-Stephens.

"Marche Champetre," by Boex, will open Miss Zehner's second group of numbers. She will then play "Ballet of the Spirits," from "Orpheus," by Gluck (arranged by Jennings); and Rowley's "West Wind" and "East Wind."

Miss Stambaugh has chosen the following songs for her final appearance on the program: "Into the Night," by Edwards; "The Bitterness of Love," by Dunn; "The Catbird," by Clokey; "One Little Cloud," by Tyson; and "Grieve Not Beloved," by LaForge.

Miss Zehner will conclude her recital with Clokey's "Canyon Walls;" Kinder's "In Springtime," and "Finlandia," by Sibelius, arranged by Fricker.

Schedule of Events

SATURDAY

PIGEONS REGISTERED

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. —(U.P.)—Eighty local owners of homing pigeons have registered their birds and lofts with the army for possible war use. About 4,000 pigeons now are available and according to the owners, this number probably will be doubled by spring.

Mrs. Paul Lee Gives Paper at Meeting of Club

Twenty-two members of the Town and Country Garden club were present when Mrs. Wilmot Peirce entertained Friday at her home, 796 Yale drive. Mrs. C. H. Bell presided at the luncheon table which was centered with a lovely arrangement of spring flowers.

Mrs. Ralph Emerson, president, conducted the business meeting at which time the club voted a donation to the Dental Clinic to help in the purchase of new equipment. The American Red Cross rules and regulations for blood donors were explained. All members were urged to make a special effort to help in this manner.

Mrs. Walter Willis, horticulture chairman, talked on "Narcissus." She illustrated her talk with 20 different varieties, both new and old, from her own garden. Mrs. Paul Lee was in charge of the program topic, "Plants to Grow In the Shade." Her informative discussion dealt with the subject from ground covers to shrubs.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Millard G. Bredbeck, 87 Vennum avenue, on May 8.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, April 26.

Sunday's horoscope may be propitious and happy for those in important, ambitious and professional stations in life. All these and others seeking high places, recognition or preferment may push toward advancement, promotion and tokens of esteem with assurance and confidence. Writings and intellectual pursuits thrive.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of advancement, promotion and favors from those in power and influence, with confidence and trust. Those looking for intellectual or professional expression may also work for approbation, although there may be peculiar, irregular or eccentric slants to the ideas which may require supervision.

For Monday, April 27.

Monday's astrological forecast may be for a difficult day, with much indulgence, extravagance and excess, in outlay of funds, emotions and energy, which should be rigidly "nipped in the bud" lest loss, sorrow and regret ensue.

Those whose birthday it is may be disposed to a course of extravagance, indulgence and excess, both in a physical, spiritual and emotional squandering of substance, which may invite disapproval from public as well as private associates. Financial and emotional control should be exercised at the inception.

A child born on this day should be given very early analysis and supervision in order to understand and direct its tendency to irresponsible and excessive indulgence of its forces.

CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY— WOODLAND GARDEN

Profusion of Spring Flowers at Home of Mrs. Carville Gorman Viewed By Mansfield Garden Club Friday.

WHEN Mrs. Carville Gorman and Mrs. Louis Bromfield entertained the Mansfield Garden club at the home of the former, 600 Woodland road, Friday afternoon, the group enjoyed a visit to the lovely Gorman garden which has numerous daffodils, narcissus, mertensia and other spring flowers in bloom.

The members returned then to the home to hear Mrs. E. J. Gilbert review a very interesting book, "The Road of a Naturalist," by Peattie, which contains a wealth of valuable information and philosophy. Mrs. Ernest Hartman showed specimen blooms of fritillaria, a rare and beautiful flower. Specimen blooms of the following varieties of narcissus, brought to the meeting by Mrs. Milton Doolittle, were Twink, Croesus, Lady Diana Manners and White Lady.

Unusual and lovely centerpiece for the luncheon table was a long, flat arrangement of plum blossoms and magnolias. Mrs. T. J. Newcomb, 627 Hawthorn Lane, will be hostess for the meeting on May 8. Associate hostess will be Mrs. Carl Routzahn.

Shower Given In Honor of Recent Brides

Two recent brides were honored with a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Kisling in Lexington. Honorees were Mrs. Charles Elliott, the former Jean Gage, and Mrs. Stanley Boska, nee Clara Lybarger.

Guests were members of the 1941 graduating class from the Mansfield General hospital School of Nursing. Prizes in games were won by Miss Lovie Sadler and Miss Harriett Heffelfinger. Luncheon was served by the hostess. Color scheme was pink and white.

Gifts for the brides were arranged beneath a large umbrella and tiny umbrellas were at the guests places on the luncheon table.

Women Golfers To Open Season At Club Tuesday

First golf day for women of Westbrook Country club will be an event of Tuesday, April 28. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. R. Hartman and Mrs. L. D. Wright. Each member is to bring her own lunch.

Pairings for the golf matches will be as follows: first flight—Mrs. C. C. Fish and Mrs. W. A. Springer; Mrs. E. R. Hartman and Mrs. Alan Tappan; Mrs. O. C. Henkel and Mrs. T. J. Newcomb; Mrs. E. S. Weller and Mrs. T. J. Chamberlain; Mrs. M. E. Geipel and Mrs. W. W. Grant; Mrs. Paul Cropper and Mrs. R. W. Stevens; Mrs. Milo Hieber and Mrs. E. K. Bacon; Miss Jean Herring, bye.

The following are pairings for the second flight: Mrs. G. H. Anson and Mrs. L. D. Wright; Mrs. H. R. Talmage and Mrs. J. C. Gorman; Mrs. O. H. Schettler and Mrs. C. V. McConnell; Mrs. W. G. Carr and Mrs. H. B. Soulen; Mrs. P. W. Endriss and Mrs. F. H. Maxwell; Mrs. A. L. Price and Mrs. V. M. Fay; Mrs. P. F. Haley and Mrs. J. W. Graham; Mrs. Elmer Hedeen and Mrs. G. E. Robinson.

PENNIES BUYS A BOND

OGDEN, Utah —(U.P.)— A quart of pennies is sufficient to purchase a $25 national defense bond. Seven-year-old LuJuna Beck discovered this when she emptied a quart bottle of pennies on the postoffice counter and they counted up to $18.75, the price of a bond.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"Margaret!" My father's voice over the telephone was incisive, sharpened I knew by anxiety. "Where are you? When will you be back?"

"I am at my destination," I told him, carefully weighing every word for fear of possible "listeners-in." The discussion I was about to carry on with him was dynamite if Stephen Redfield or his associates should comprehend it. "But my cold is bothering me."

"I understand," he said promptly, for this was an old signal, meaning caution and camouflaged speech. "Don't use your voice any more than you have to."

"I shall be back probably in three hours," I said. "I found the article you wished, and another with it, and I am bringing them back with me. And — I hope you won't be angry with me. But one reason for my delay was that we passed a farm where there was an auction going on, and I just couldn't resist stopping.

Talks In Code.

"I found a most marvelous set of six needlepoint-covered chairs. They'll be just the thing for that apartment in old Chelsea and I couldn't resist taking them. They are a terribly tight fit in the two cars. Oh, I didn't tell you yet—there was a most marvelous bargain in a station wagon with fairly good tires—just what we need at the farm—and I simply couldn't help giving them a check and taking it along. We needed it here, too, I can tell you, with the chairs and all.

"I do hope you won't mind, but I'm sure if you had seen those chairs you couldn't have resisted them either. Please say you don't mind."

I was trying to play the role of a garrulous, irresponsible woman, and wondered if my father would be able to read my meaning between the lines.

"What—what!" he had ejaculated at one point. But by the time I finished speaking he was composed in manner and speech, at least, whatever the state of his mind.

Spencer Approves.

"No, I don't mind in the least," he said. "I will see that the housekeeper in the apartment has everything ready for the reception of those chairs."

"Oh, thank you, Father!" I gurgled. "That will be lovely! And the very best part of it is that nobody who matters knows I have the chairs. I mean, nobody who knows antiques, or who would bother me trying to buy them back again. I just happened in when people hadn't begun to come back from lunch, and so I sneaked them right out from under the noses of other bargain hunters.

"We nearly got in trouble, though, with the state police: Joe almost got a ticket for driving too fast, but the police captain happened along, and when I told him who I was, he was ever so nice and helpful. I saw him again at the auction, and he identified me, so I didn't have any trouble about giving them a check."

Bids Madge Be Careful.

"Well! You certainly have had an exciting—and I hope profitable—afternoon," my father said with just the proper note of genial indulgence for a harum-scarum daughter in his voice. "Your errands are all finished now, I think you said?"

"Yes, and I'm starting back within fifteen minutes," I said. "But I won't be there until after dark. And do you know, I believe I've forgotten—oh, I remember now. That street the apartment is on is the one where I met you this morning, isn't it? I'll come there first."

"Yes, do that," he said. "And be careful coming back! Is there anything more that you wish to tell me?"

"No," I gurgled, "except that you are the dearest father in the world not to be angry at me. And I'm so thrilled that nobody knows about my six chairs! nobody, and I got them all, not one missing."

"That is splendid!" he said heartily. "I shall be all ready for you—and the chairs—when you get here. Goodbye, my darling. Again, be careful! I'm saying it twice."

"I will," I promised. "Goodbye."

Knows Father Understood.

I put back the receiver with a heady little thrill of triumph. That last sentence of my father's, "I'm saying it twice," had meant that he comprehended the meaning of my rigmarole and would have all preparations made to receive at the Village hideaway my "six needlepoint-covered chairs."

Something beyond my usual sense of precaution had prompted my elaborate camouflage, with its reference to the apartment in "old Chelsea." I had sometimes had a feeling there was a dangerous "listener-in" to our conversations at the Lansfield.

But even as I permitted myself a bit of gloating over the fact that the six gangsters and their car would vanish into the Connecticut mountain air, as far as any report to their superiors was concerned, a knock sounded on the door and the voice of Gus came insistently to my ears:

"Missis Graham. The captain he wants to speak to you quick."

CHAPTER XXXII

"Yes, Randy. What?"

"I love Drake—better than anything in the world. I didn't marry Drake out of pity. He is—always will be—the only man in my world."

Parris took her hand. "It would be just like some meddlesome fool to drop some hint of this story about Dr. Gordon to him someday."

"I know, Parris. I've thought of that."

"It must never happen. I think the whole structure would topple down again, and that time we couldn't rebuild it. He'd be gone."

Parris thought for a few minutes.

"It's strange, or curious, or something, that wherever there is a ghastly or a grotesque tragedy in this town, you'll find Dr. Gordon somewhere in the story."

"You do believe—"

"Hush! Neither you nor I can ever know about Drake. There's no possible way. It's better we don't know. I've got to believe that it was a necessary amputation. So must you. We must, Randy. Don't you see that? He had no reason—"

"Yes, he did! Louise!"

"He had separated them, anyhow. That was over."

* * *

When Parris reached home he found a letter waiting for him. He opened it hastily and read:

My Dear Mr. Mitchell:

I am writing in order to make a rather melancholy report on Louise. Her general condition did not improve here and I called in the doctor recommended to me by Dr. Saunders.

It has seemed best, in his judgment, to keep Louise under close observation for an indefinite period of time, and we have accordingly removed her for the present to a private sanitarium where she can have the best of care. You can imagine, I am sure, my own great personal suffering when I saw my own child attempt to besmirch the memory of a great man and a great physician.

It is my wish that Kings Row should know fully that Louise is in no way responsible for whatever stories she may have told about Dr. Gordon, and that she has been confined in safekeeping. I have sent a note to Miles Jackson which I have worded discreetly, but clearly. I have also written to certain friends and acquaintances who will, I am sure, make mention of these late sad events and thus, in some measure, set wild tales at rest.

Let me assure you again of my gratitude for your efforts in behalf of my poor child. For the rest I can only trust in the Maker of all things who holds us all in the hollow of His hand.

Very truly yours,
Harriet Gordon.

Parris turned back and read the letter a second time, carefully. The word "confined" stood out on the page as if written in red. He could guess a large part of what had happened in Florida. It could not have been difficult for Mrs. Gordon to drive Louise to violence. That Mrs. Gordon could deliberately make use of this event as she was now using it filled him with horror.

It was pretty clear that Mrs. Gordon was touched with religious fanaticism. If Louise's stories could be depended upon — and Parris was sure that they could be—Dr. Gordon, too, had had more than a trace of the same fanaticism. The two of them must have worked up some sort of misdirected fervor against what they considered evil-doing.

Parris tried desperately to direct his own attention away from certain dawning convictions. Sadism was common enough in many forms, but sadism coupled with religious fanaticism was particularly dangerous. Such a person with a surgeon's knife in his hands—

Above all he must keep Randy from guessing what he — he stopped and looked squarely at the question. Yes: it was true! Of course it was true.

He remembered Willy Macintosh's father and the screams coming from that upstairs rooms as Dr. Gordon operated—without chloroform. He remembered Ludie Simms, a harmless enough libertine, and the Gordon operation that paralyzed half her face.

How in the world had this man managed to go through a whole career in Kings Row without ever being called into question?

Parris was acutely surprised to find an entirely new and strange feeling about Kings Row.

What held him here? The hospital? Was it Drake and Randy? Was it Dr. Nolan? Was it his memories of his grandmother, of Renee and Tom Carr, and Cassie, and of people like Colonel Skeffington? No; he was clearly convinced that it was no one of these things, or even all of them. It was something less easy of access, less tangible maybe, something that had to do with the early making of him which, as parent soil, held him fast.

They had stayed on, those who were here before him. Herr Berdorff, lonely, perhaps, homesick at times for the idyllic Germany he remembered; Isaac Skeffington, talking of the civilized charm of country life in his Virginia; his own great-grandfather Mitchell, bred in the fastidious and exacting life of a great family tradition—all of them. They stayed on.

He had had a bad time in Kings Row. Tragedy and disaster came too early. He had been like a field of young wheat blown down by spring storms. He had straightened but slowly. But somehow he knew that he was rooted.

A call from Herr Berdorff begging Parris to see Vera Lichinsky, who had given up her playing and returned without warning, began for him another contact with Kings Row tragedy.

member that the man whose name Herr Berdorff said. "Mr. Lichinsky pulls his hair, Parris. Vera says she cannot play. Cannot play!"

Parris sat in the little living room above the jewelry shop where the Lichinskys had lived ever since Parris had first known them. Vera's fine strong hands lay rather inertly in her lap. It was hard to believe, as she told him her story, that this poised, lovely young woman was the colorless little Vera who used to slump awkwardly along the street with her violin case under her arm.

"I canceled my tours. I couldn't play," she said. "All at once I seemed to hear myself as if—as if I had never heard myself before. I asked myself a question—and I couldn't answer it—and then, I couldn't play any more."

"What was the question you couldn't answer?"

"I—I simply asked myself why I player a passage just the way I did."

Parris waited quietly. "And then?"

"I tried to play again and it wouldn't go any way at all. I sounded suddenly like a child—a beginner—no meaning."

Vera seemed to understand why it had all happened. As a child she was a prodigy, playing wholly by intuition, but without real education. Later, abroad, she tried to fill in her background with reading, theater, exhibitions, things she learned a great artist should have. Yet these arts expressed emotions—grief, pain, love, sorrow—that she had never experienced. She had only been frightened as a little girl, much and often., by her family's sense of inferiority; by her father telling her she must work hard—harder—harder, or "What will Kings Row say?"

"We passed the asylum once. I remember the barred windows—vividly. I asked my father what the place was, and he said it was there they 'locked up crazy people who ain't smart no more.' I decided then that I knew why my father was so afraid I wouldn't be 'smart,' and do well with my fiddle. Simple in a way, isn't it?"

"Ye-es. Childish fear. But you learned soon enough what 'crazy' meant. Wasn't the fear gone then?"

"No, Parris. The things I feared are not in Kings Row, but here—inside of my own head! I have broken a connection between my fingers and some hidden source of music which was what had been called my talent. I cannot play."

"Do you want to play?"

"Yes." She spoke the word out of an immeasurable despair.

"It will come back. You'll have to rest, then begin again, quietly, simply, like a child."

"What I seem to be most afraid of, Parris, is the asylum here in Kings Row. I've taken a room in Carrier street so that I can look right out on it—all the time. I've got to stare it down. I stand every night and look at it until the lights are out. I can't let it get the better of me, Parris!"

Parris was disappointed in his efforts to aid Vera. Her family considered her trouble an "unwillingness to go on" and united against her in a kind of inquisitorial persecution. It was not long before Vera shut herself up for good in the little room on Carrier street.

Parris explained to Herr Berdorff, who spread his hands with a gesture of incredulity. "One day she iss a great violinist; the next day she cannot play! I do not understand!"

The two men talked, each somewhat surprised after years of acquaintance at what he found in the other. Herr Berdorff was a little distressed to find in Parris a strain of something that seemed at times not quite bitter, but perhaps verging near it. Something a shade disillusioned and doubtful.

These darker tones in Parris were deepened when Herr Berdorff returned to Germany. His little congregation did not want him any longer. They wanted someone who was less devoted to music—someone more of a pastor.

Parris had begged him to stay, to take the chair of German at Aberdeen.

"Parris!" Herr Berdorff's voice was stern. "I am a preacher. My real work—that is for God. I could not do something else—never."

Parris stood up. "I have to go. I can't talk now. I'll cry like—I'll see you tomorrow."

Parris hurried away. At the gate of the parsonage he stopped and looked out across the lower part of town where most of the professor's people lived. "Fools, fools — thickheaded—destructive fools!"

"The Authority on Authorities"

BOY ON MAN'S ERRAND

WHY IS IT that some ordinarily strong players hate to use a high trump for ruffing purposes, when they can spare it just as well as a little one? You see that happen every week among pretty fair players, usually because they cannot realize that one defender might hold a very long suit, and therefore the other defender might be very short in it.

Approximately that bidding brought heart game contracts to West at several duplicate tables. It was sad to see one of them kicking the contract away, whereas the others made it.

The losing declarer took the club K with the A, ruffed the 6 with the heart 2, discarded a diamond on the spade A, ruffed the spade 4 with the heart 5 and led the club 10, ruffing it with the heart 8. South promptly overruffed with the 9 and the contract could no longer be made, as three diamonds had to be lost by West.

One of the Wests who made the contract took the club K with the A and then ruffed the 6 with the heart 8. He led back the heart 2 to the A and then ruffed the club 10 with the heart Q. South could not over-ruff, so the contract was safe. A diamond was thrown on the spade A, the spade 4 ruffed by the heart 5 and the top hearts scored, three diamonds being left at the end and North taking two of them plus a club.

Before someone in Fremont or Oshkosh scoops me on this item, let me report that Bob Winbigler and Paul Dietzel, popular stars of Mansfield high school's highly successful football, basketball and track teams of the current school year, will be enrolled at Duke university next fall.

I've been checking this little item ever since the spring vacation of Mansfield's schools, but the various sources I contacted professed to be in doubt.

Now everyone interested knew that Dietzel and Windy had made shopping tours to Ohio State, Tennessee and Duke, and some claimed to know that there were other good offers in the offing, but what the boys were going to do about it no one seemed to know for sure.

Well finally I let my newspaper training get the best of me, and went straight to the feed box for the dope. Track fast and running easy.

And Windy tells me it will be Duke for sure. "Such a good proposition they offered, and such a good baseball coaching system they've got, we just couldn't turn it down," says he.

"Tennessee was just about perfect," Windy admitted, "but Duke proved just a little bit better than that."

So when you get a little bit better than just about perfect you've got something that figures out to be ideal.

And that, so I understand, is what the boys got at Duke. It isn't entirely cricket, even in this day and age, to reveal just what they got, but I can disclose that it's good.

Windy's been wondering just what he's going to do this summer. "I've got to get a little spending money to go down there to Duke," he confides, "so I really ought to get a job."

And he has the offer of a job, so I hear, at Plymouth. But he'd rather stay home. The Plymouth job has something to do with playing baseball this summer, but amateur, and I don't blame the Plymouths a bit for looking him up.

They must remember, as I do, that Windy set no less than 19 of the Plymouths down on strikes last summer while hurling for the Liberty Parks. And 19 is one more than Bob Feller's major league record. Of course this isn't the same league.

The last I saw of Winbigler, he was vigorously taking notes while watching the Moose league bowl. "I have to write a paper on this," he said. "Why don't you get a book on the subject?" I asked him. "That would be more accurate," he admitted, "but this is much more fun."

Drake Relays Draws Stars

Annual Track Event Boasts Good Field.

DES MOINES, Ia. — (AP) — A crack Drake relays field, its pride swollen by a new American collegiate record and two meet marks, offered another round of thrills in the windup of the track carnival today.

Other events likely to have a revised set of figures before nightfall are the high jump, pole vault and mile relay, but anything was likely to happen down through the list of 17 university and college events.

A quartet of speedsters from Oklahoma started the record breaking in yesterday's colorful show. Bill Lyda drove through a half mile in 1:49.7 to anchor the University of Oklahoma in a 3:23 sprint medley race which sheared two-tenths of a second from the America collegiate mark.

The favored University of Texas Longhorns finished third behind the sizzling Sooners and Michigan's Wolverines.

New Drake marks went to the Prairie View (Texas) State Teachers college with a 3:26.6 performance in the Iowa open one-mile relay.

In the individual events, Virgil Alston of Miami (Ohio) university furnished the biggest surprise. The bespectacled Ohioan, running sixth in the two mile with only 220 yards to go, rushed out of the pack to overtake the favorite, Oliver Hunter of Notre Dame, in a tight finish.

SAVOLD FAVORED

TOLEDO—(AP)—Lee Savold of Des Moines is favored to take his second victory from Sergeant Jack Marshall of Dallas, Tex., in a 10-round heavyweight fight here tonight. The winner is expected to meet Bob Pastor.

Indians Climb High

Boudreau's Warriors Don't Miss Feller—Yet

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

WHEN Bob Feller enlisted in the navy last winter everybody agreed, more or less, that the Cleveland Indians had lost their whole ball club.

This was a fine tribute to the great fast ball flinger, and, at the time, it was a sincere and considered appraisal of the Cleveland team.

But who do you suppose is panting at the heels of the New York Yankees in the American league today?—the Indians, just a game behind the world champions.

They are riding the crest of the biggest winning streak in the major leagues to date, six games, and the mound staff which was supposed to have vanished with Feller has turned in the most consistently well-pitched games in the big show.

In 10 games, Indian pitchers have allowed an average of less than seven hits a game.

Yesterday old Mel Harder, who apparently was washed up a year ago and was handed his outright release only to get back into harness this spring at the request of young Lou Boudreau, pitched a four-hit 2-0 shutout against the St. Louis Browns. It was a masterpiece that made up for Harder's 1-0 defeat by the Chicago White Sox a week before and it gave the Brownies their sixth straight loss.

The Yanks helped Cleveland attain undisputed possession of second place by rallying for seven runs in the ninth to beat the Boston Red Sox, 8-5.

Phil Marchildon pitched a four-hit game to lead the Philadelphia Athletics to a 7-2 triumph over the Washington Senators.

However, four-hit pitching was not good enough to get Edgar Smith and the Chicago White Sox a victory over Detroit. The Tigers won 2-1 with all the scoring on home runs—one for Chicago by Don Kolloway and two for the Tigers by Rudy York and Bob Patrick.

Four-hit pitching was not good enough to win for the Boston Braves, either, against the New York Giants. One of the hits was a two-run homer by Rookie Willard Marshall and the Giants won 3-1 on the eight-hit work of Cliff Melton to move into second place.

The Phils, of all people, broke up a five-game winning streak for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Frank Hoerst held the Dodgers to five hits while Danny Litwhiler made four, including a two-run homer, and Ben Warren singled with the bases loaded in an 11-hit attack that whipped Kirby Higbe, 4-2.

Cincinnati found two four-run rallies better than one five-run flurry by Pittsburgh and beat the Pirates, 9-5. Frank McCormick drove in five runs with a homer and a double.

The Chicago Cubs chased Howard Pollet with three runs on two hits, two walks and an error in the first inning and stopped the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, although outhit, six to five.

Felix, just turned 65, figures he has twirled more than 1,600 sandlot baseball games since 1902.

His present team plays every Sunday of the year when weather permits.

Trojans Keep Track Talent

Cleveland Scriveners Aim For Eighth Title.

By SAM JACKSON
(Wide World Features Writer)

LOS ANGELES — The modern men of Troy don't need a wooden horse. Head Trojan Dean Cromwell has little need for deception when his Southern California track and field ranks can concentrate their other talents.

Those talents have reduced track competition in the west to a mere formality and the rate at which U.S.C. has been winning national collegiate titles is getting on the monotonous side.

It looks like Troy's eighth straight national championship is coming up; evidence to indicate as much came in the form of Troy's recent overwhelming victory over California, the only team on the coast capable of coming close in a dual meet.

* * *

Whatever the answer may be—coaching, climate or material—the Trojans are set to pour it on. They don't need a flock of individual winners. They seem to specialize in the second, third and fourth positions and the points just roll up. It's the old "three-deep" stuff as applied to football.

Nevertheless, the 1942 edition has the wherewithal to capture a few first places in anybody's track meet.

Leading light is Bill Schaefer, umpsteenth in a long line of U.S.C. sky-scraping pole-vaulters The only man to beat Connie Warmerdam last year, Schaefer has hit 14.6, with his limit unreached.

Hubert Kerns is back to defend the N.C.A.A. quarter-mile championship he won last year in 46.6. His team-mate, Cliff Bourland is only a couple tenths off that. They form the nucleus of a Trojan mile relay team that might hit 3.11 this spring.

Leroy Weed, just learning to run, can do the mile in 5:9.7, which means Leslie MacMitchell of N.Y.U., will have to hurry.

Dick Browning is down around 22.3 seconds in the low hurdles and Jack Trout is coming along in the sprints.

Behind these front-rankers are a host of others who will scrape together valuable points in the field events and the middle distances. It's seldom that a red-shirted Trojan doesn't wind up in the first six in the national collegiates.

Next year U.S.C. should be even tougher, say some critics. Because of the war, the university has decreed compulsory physical education at the rate of an hour a day for every male student.

Toledo Hens Own Streak

Go Into Tie For Third Position.

(By Associated Press)

While the attention of the American Association was turned to Milwaukee's rapid start—and its loss of two straight after six wins in a row—Toledo has been engaging in a winning streak that has brought the Mud Hens into a tie for third place by good, hard work.

Toledo took its fourth straight victory yesterday, 4 to 3, over Louisville in 12 innings. It was the third game in a row the Mud Hens had been forced to work overtime to win, having gone 10 innings to beat Indianapolis Tuesday and 14 frames to stop Louisville Thursday.

* * *

Milt Byrnes' home run in the 12th was the blow that decided yesterday's tilt.

The Milwaukee club, its winning streak broken Thursday by St. Paul, lost again to the tail-enders yesterday, 8 to 2.

Kansas City moved within a half-game of overhauling the leading Brewers by battering Minneapolis, 10-1, and Columbus won from Indianapolis, 11 to 4, as George (Red) Munger held the tribe in check for eight innings with six hits. Indianapolis caught up with Munger in the ninth for three hits and three runs. Max Marshall had four hits in four times at bat for the Red Birds, scoring four runs.

League Decides For Sanctioning

Dominion girl bowlers, after a highly successful first season on the alleys, decided at their banquet last night at Martin's Tavern, to become a sanctioned league next winter.

Chief advantage of the sanctioning, will be the fact that they'll be able to bowl in the city womens' tournament, as well as the various other women's tournaments over the state.

Bertha Malaska was re-elected league president. Other officers elected were: Jeanette Sponseller, vice president; Clareta Dawson, secretary, and Elizabeth Bennett, sergeant at arms.

Redlegs Try Luck at Home

Derringer Gets Mound Assignment.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds open a 17-game home stand today with Paul Derringer and Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs assuming the pitching duties.

At Pittsburgh yesterday the Reds won 9-5, evening the record for their first trip against the western clubs at three-three.

Manager Frankie Frisch used 20 Pirate players to thwart defeat, but his strategy proved unavailing against First Baseman Frank McCormick's blasting bat. Big Mac hit a home run in the fourth with two runners on base and in the sixth doubled to score two more. Mac's hits sparked four-run Redleg rallies in each of these frames.

Rookie Joe Abreau, with Milwaukee last year, counted the Redlegs' other tally by opening the seventh with a home run. Abreau played second for Lonnie Frey who is recovering from spike injuries.

Rightfielder Ival Goodman got a walk, two doubles and two singles for a perfect day at bat and raised his average for the young season above .400 to top the National league.

Three New ABC Leaders Listed

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Three new listings appeared today on the slate of leaders in the American Bowling congress tournament.

In top place in the singles was John Stanley of Cleveland, whose 756 series was the second high score in ABC history and bettered by 10 pins the year's previous high rolled by Nelson Burton of St. Louis.

Stanley, 47-year-old parking lot proprietor, rolled games of 258, 253 and 245 in this, his "31st or 32nd tournament." The ABC singles record is 774, set by Larry Shotwell of Covington, Ky., 12 years ago.

* * *

Another Clevelander, Joseph Baldy, followed Stanley with games of 202, 267 and 262 for a 731 total and a three-way tie for fifth place with William Forslund of Brooklyn and Robert Tritschler of Norwood, O.

RELAYS HELD

DELAWARE — (AP) — Thirty-three Class A and 35 Class B high schools battled today in the annual Ohio Wesleyan team relays. Springfield captured the Class A title last year and the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home of Xenia was the Class B winner. Both are entered.

Tygers Turn In Record Victory

MANSFIELD HIGH SCHOOL'S thin-clad tracksters yesterday scored what is probably the largest margin of victory in the school's history—a 100 to 18 decision over Akron Garfield at Akron.

Harry Mehock, coach of the Tyger tracksters, and father of modern day track at Mansfield high, said today he was sure the 100-18 score had not been duplicated in the last 10 years, and that he could not remember when such a score had been piled up by the Tygers.

"That score is just about perfect," beamed the jubilant Mehock. "If we had had a couple more boys along with us to take a few more third places, it would have been right next door to perfect."

Garfield, it must be admitted, didn't have much in the way of track talent. But Mansfield had a fairly tough time defeating the same team a year ago, deciding the meet in the closing events.

The Akron club scored only one first in the entire meet, Pringle taking the pole vault, on a leap of 10 feet, 6 inches. But even that loss didn't discourage Mehock, as Robertson, taking second for Mansfield, vaulted higher than he had been accustomed.

Lightnin' Jones, who scored his usual number of points, put the shot for a new season's mark of 45 feet, 8 inches, while Packer turned in a five foot, seven inch mark in the high jump.

One of the surprises of the meet was Hamman's double victory in the dashes, as he led the redoubtable Jones to the tape in the 220, and also took the 100.

* * *

Next Friday the Tygers stage their second twilight meet of the season, meeting Columbus North at Stadium field at 7 o'clock.

They've Done This Before

U. S. C. Scantyclads Aren't Hyped Up Yet.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Victorious in their last six games, the Cleveland Indians apparently are off on their annual spring winning streak with the season only 11 days old.

Manager Lou Boudreau, remembering other early spurts, is keeping his fingers crossed as his charges today try to extend their unbroken string at the expense of the Chicago White Sox. He has named Al Milnar to pitch.

The Indians are in second place in the league scramble, only a game behind the champion New York Yankees by virtue of Mel Harder's 2 to 0 shutout over the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

The 33-year-old veteran, whom nobody wanted last fall, hit the comeback trail with a sparkling four-hit performance in his second start of the season. His whitewash of the Browns gave him a record of holding opponents to one run in the 16 innings he has pitched since the beginning of the season.

Harder had to be good because the Indians touched Denny Galehouse for only seven hits and one of their two runs was unearned.

In the last five innings only 15 batters faced Harder, who grew tougher as the game went on. In past years when Harder was plagued by arm trouble, he used to weaken in late innings. An operation on his arm last winter apparently has made his arm as good as ever.

Iowa, Illinois Set Hot Pace

Hawkeyes Gain 4th Big Ten Victory.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Iowa and Illinois continued to set a hot pace as the Big Ten baseball race continued on its third week-end today. The Hawkeyes and the Illini, with records of four wins and one loss apiece, are dominating the field, although Michigan and Ohio State made victorious entries into the campaign yesterday to take an unofficial hold on first place.

* * *

Iowa gained its fourth victory by defeating hitherto unbeaten Northwestern, 5 to 1. Illinois used eight Chicago errors and 11 base hits to produce a 14 to 2 win over the Maroons.

APACHE, REQUESTED GIVEN BIG TESTS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Topping off what may be the fanciest betting spree New York ever has gone on, Apache and Requested today give the folks the final yes-or-no on their Kentucky Derby chances in the 18th running of the Wood Memorial stakes at Jamaica.

William Woodward's handsome high-quartered hope and Texas Ben Whittaker's little fellow are the head men among 11 derby eligibles in the field of 16 entered for the traditional mile-and-a-six

150 ATTEND GALION LODGE INSPECTION

Pythian Lodge Ceremonies Conducted by Grand Chief of Ohio.

GALION — 150 members and guests of the Pythian Sisters lodge attended the annual inspection Thursday night at the Junior Order hall.

Prior to the meeting at the temple the Woman's Relief corps served dinner to the members and grand officers.

Inspection ceremonies were conducted by Mildred Schmidt, grand chief of Ohio. All officers were present and all past chiefs with the exception of one, who was unable to attend because of illness. Grand chiefs and most excellent chiefs were presented with gifts and flowers. Mayme Baldinger was the recipient of a past chief pin.

State officers present included, grand chief, Mildred Schmidt, Dayton; past grand chief, Cassie McClintock, Toledo; grand outer guard, Margaret Lord, Fostoria; grand mistress of records and correspondence, Jeannette Bell, Cleveland; district deputy of District 13, Mary Barracks, Cleveland; and past deputies, Bertha Shellenbarger, Huron; Ama Foster, Crestline, and Nellie Phipps, Mansfield.

Ladies Guild of the First Presbyterian church met Friday afternoon at the church parlors and spent the major part of the afternoon sewing for the Red Cross.

Following the short business meeting at which it was decided to sponsor a bake sale May 2, the program, in charge of Mrs. Hill, was opened.

Jeannette Pfeifer gave a piano solo, followed by a vocal selection by Barbara Dekker. A reading by Beverly Cass and a piano selection by Nancy Lohius completed the musical part of the program.

sure, although the enemy is moving on relentlessly to take over the rich island.

In northern Luzon and on the southern island of Mindanao, isolated American-Filipino patrols are understood to be continuing their harassing tactics, striking at Japanese communication lines and raiding and burning warehouses and enemy outposts.

Concentrate Attack On Japs At Lae

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia — (U.P.)—American and Australian planes centered their bombing offensive yesterday on the Japanese airdrome base at Lae, on the Huon gulf of New Guinea, Gen. MacArthur's general headquarters communique said today.

It was believed that heavy damage was done to enemy planes, the runways of the airdrome and barracks and buildings.

Seven Japanese Navy-O fighter planes attempted to raid Port Moresby, on the Australian side of New Guinea, yesterday but were intercepted by Allied fighters and fled after a short, fierce fight, MacArthur said.

Reports Slaying of 15,000 Japanese

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—Annihilation of 15,000 Japanese soldiers traveling in a convoy was officially credited to an Australian air force today, the Melbourne radio said in a broadcast recorded by the CBS listening station in San Francisco.

"An air force officer back from Malaya and the East Indies said today that his squadron was officially credited with killing 10,000 Japanese in seven and a half hours," the Melbourne announcer said.

"Flying Hudson bombers, the squadron attacked a Japanese convoy bound for Malaya. The officers said after the raid the sea was black with Japanese bodies."

THEATERS

Technicolor Musical.

Betty Grable wears a pompadour and a fringed skirt when she takes to the rhythm of the South Sea islands in the current technicolor musical, "Song of the Islands," at the Ohio. Handsome Victor Mature plays opposite the star as a young man eager to bring civilization to a Pacific Island supervised by Miss Grable's father, Thomas Mitchell. George Barbier plays the father on the other side of the house and Hilo Hattie and Harry Owens and his Royal Hawaiians adds mirth and music to the production.

Homecoming Comedy.

"The Male Animal," the Elliott Nugent-James Thurber stage hit, comes to the Madison screen today in its film adaptation with Henry Fonda and Olivia De Havilland playing the leading roles. A rousing college comedy the picture deals with a big homecoming game and the complications with which a young college professor is beset. Fonda plays the professor and Miss De Havilland the part of his wife, anxious to see an old flame on homecoming day. Jack Carson and Joan Leslie are in the cast.

Romantic Drama.

Charles Boyer, Paulette Goddard and Olivia De Havilland form the romantic triumvirate in "Hold Back the Dawn," opening Sunday at the Ritz. The story shows what happens when an unscrupulous continental attempts to crash the U. S. immigration barriers by marrying an unsuspecting American girl. Miss De Havilland plays the school teacher victim and Paulette Goddard appears as Boyer's erstwhile dancing partner. Walter Abel is in the cast. Humphrey Bogart's starring picture, "All Through the Night," shares the bill.

Homespun Story.

The Weaver Brothers and Elviry top the cast in a lively piece of screen entertainment "Shepherd of the Ozarks," playing at the Park. Portraying simple hard-working folk, the same as they have since they left vaudeville for a screen career, the Weavers in this picture are taken to the city by a "slicker" who hopes that once they have a taste of luxury they will "sell out" their own government for big money. Marilyn Hare and Frank Albertson carry the romantic leads and Thurston Hall appears as the menace. Joe E. Brown in "Shut My Big Mouth" is the co-feature.

Spectacular Film.

One of the most spectacular events in United States history—Custer's last stand at Little Big Horn, is re-enacted in "They Died With Their Boots On," now showing at the Majestic. Errol Flynn appears in the role of Custer and Olivia De Havilland portrays his wife. Custer's penchant for fancy dress, his disdain for obeying orders and his consistent exhibitionism are all revealed in the production that is climaxed by the massacre of the Seventh Cavalry by the Indians. Sydney Greenstreet, Hattie McDaniel and Gene Lockhart are in the production. Laurel and Hardy are featured in their comedy, "Flying Deuces," as the second attraction.

WANTS PRICE CURB

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Frank A. Hoffman, Cleveland butter and egg board secretary, believes a price ceiling should be set on butter and eggs to curb skyrocketing prices. Food speculators are flooding the Chicago exchange with future buying to clean up on a price rise, Hoffman asserted yesterday.

BLOCKS STREET, ROAD PROGRAMS

War Restrictions Prohibiting Delivery of Asphalt and Oil to City, County.

would substitute calcium chloride for oil this year and that the county had plenty of chloride on hand to treat most of the county roads.

Last year, Mansfield oiled 157 streets and 94 alleys at an estimated cost of about $7,000. If Wolff's recommendation to city council is accepted, the oiling of the alleys would be omitted this summer.

As for the "asphalt "cut-back" used to seal street or road repairs, neither the city or county officials seemed too concerned about the possibility that it would not be supplied.

Director Wolf said that the city had on hand other materials for patching and said that it still had a small supply of asphalt for sealing purposes. County Engineer Sword said that county workers had almost completed their work with "cut-back" and that he did not anticipate any further need for it this year.

HANDBILL CASE BACK IN COURT

Appeal Filed In Shelby Action After Mayor Fines Union Organizer $50.

brought the case back to common pleas court on an appeal.

Before continuing the case yesterday, Judge Huston commented that labor and employers should devote their time to war production and not waste time on petty arguments over handbills and attempts to organize workers in defense plants.

Pierce filed the injunction suit after he was twice arrested for distributing union handbills at the entrance of the Autocall company plant in Shelby without a permit. The Shelby ordinance provides that licenses to pass handbills must be obtained from the mayor who may charge a fee.

Judge Huston said yesterday that he would hear an appeal in the case within "a few days" if it came back to him.

RITES MONDAY

Dr. Pilkey, Former Huron Health Commissioner, Dead.

ASHLAND — Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in Norwalk for Dr. Benjamin C. Pilkey, 75, of Huron, former Huron county health commissioner, who died here Friday in Samaritan hospital. Burial will be in Monroeville.

Surviving are his widow, Lillian, of Huron; two daughters, Mrs. Mary DeLamatre, Berlin heights, and Mrs. F. E. Gnagey, Ashland; a son, Ward C., of Lakewood, and a sister, Mrs. James Finnegan, of London, Ontario, Canada.

RITES SUNDAY

MILLERSBURG—Funeral services for Oscar Newburn, Killbuck, who died at his home Friday will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Killbuck Church of Christ. Rev. A. F. Uphoff will officiate. Burial will be in Frazeyburg cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Gladys; three daughters, Martha and Mary Ann at home and Mrs. Russell Anderson of Frazeyburg; a grandchild, and a brother, James Newburn of Monroe, La.

IN CONTEST

SHELBY — Two Shelby music groups are taking part in the annual music contests at Ohio State university in Columbus which close today.

The 75-piece high school band, directed by H. G. Koerber, music supervisor, left early today for Columbus. The choir took part in the contests Friday.

mum requirements and the figures made it obvious that deliveries to filling stations must be further curtailed if stocks were to be maintained.

Hold Little Hope For Oil Pipline

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—A Texas to New York pipeline would solve the east coast oil supply problem almost entirely, but war production board officials today saw little hope for its construction, because:

It would require enough steel to build 25 battleships or 12,500 medium tanks, and tanks and battleships are more important than gasoline for pleasure driving along the Atlantic staboard.

However, a WPB spokesman said Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes' request—his third—for priorities to allow construction of the line would be considered carefully, though there is little hope of approval "unless he can prove that gasoline rationing will hit essential consumers."

DEATH CLAIMS HOLMES WOMAN

MILLERSBURG—Ketura Doty, 52, wife of Howard Doty, died unexpectedly while at a social gathering Thursday evening, at the Grossenbaugh residence north of Holmesville.

Surviving are her husband; five sons, Austin, Milo and Robert at home, Thomas of Applecreek and Wilmur, Fort Knox, Ky.; two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Mae Tipton and Miss Doris Doty of Cleveland; a grandchild, and a brother, Frank Bilderback of near Millersburg.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

WANTS 'YES'

King Will Resign Unless Canada Votes Overseas Draft.

OTTAWA—(U.P.)—Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King indicated last night that his government would resign if a majority "no" vote were recorded in Monday's plebiscite on conscription for overseas service.

"If I did not believe that, as head of the government, I continued to enjoy the confidence of the people, who time and again have returned me to office, I would not wish to remain in office an hour later," he said in a final radio appeal for an overwhelming "yes" vote.

MARKSMEN COMPETE

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Teams from four states competed today for marksmanship and individual drill honors in the annual Pershing rifles drill meet. The University of Kentucky won the company competition last night. Ohio State was second.

LEGAL NOTICE

Eddie Rouse, last known place of residence and mailing address, 2100 Jos Campau Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, will take notice that Essie Rouse has filed her petition in Common Pleas Court of Richland County, Ohio, praying for divorce and other proper relief on the grounds of three years willful absence and that said cause which is number 26336 of said court will be for hearing on or at any time after May 8, 1942.

ty of the situation for the Allies in Burma.

At worst, it means the overwhelmingly stronger invaders have turned the Chinese flank, thus swinging the United Nations' line on its Irrawaddy river hinge like a gate, and that the Allies will be able to restabilize the line, if at all, only with prodigious effort.

At best, it means that the Japanese, taking a leaf from the Germans, have shot out a powerful armored spearhead far beyond their foremost main line.

Jap Fleet Leaves Bay of Bengal

LONDON—(INS)—Disappearance of the Japanese battle fleet from the Bay of Bengal has led some United Nations quarters to believe Japan has been forced by the threat of aerial attacks against the imperial empire to divert her naval strength back to the northeast, the London Daily Mail said today.

This, along with the absence of signs of any heavy naval forces off Australia, the Daily Mail said, may mean the Japanese are diverting their naval power "to neutralize American bases in the Aleutians from where it is now felt the Tokyo raiders came."

2—Card of Thanks

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.

A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6, ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone, either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need.

PAM—Courage! By A. W. Brewerton

CARSON, I'VE NEVER WRONGED YOU! I TRIED TO SAVE YOU FROM WHAT HAPPENED! YOU'VE NO REASON TO KILL ME! LISTEN, I DO NOT SEEK DEATH, I'D SOONER LIVE, BUT----
4-25
---I'M NOT AFRAID TO DIE! ARE YOU, DOUG? AS SURELY AS YOU PULL THAT TRIGGER, IT WILL MEAN YOUR DEATH, TOO! IT WON'T BE JUST PRISON THIS TIME! IT WILL BE— EXECUTION!
BAH! THEY'LL NEVER CATCH ME, CLIFF. I'VE GOT IT ALL PLANNED! WHEN THEY FIND YOU, I'LL BE MILES AWAY! YER A SMOOTH LAWYER, BUT Y'CAN'T TALK YERSELF OUT OF THIS!
THE MAN SEEMED SUDDENLY TO BECOME INFURIATED AT THE COLONEL'S COOLNESS—ROBBED OF HIS TRIUMPH BECAUSE THE COLONEL DIDN'T BEG FOR MERCY!
THE COLONEL REALIZED ONLY QUICK ACTION COULD SAVE HIM NOW!
YOU'RE ALL THROUGH, CLIFF!

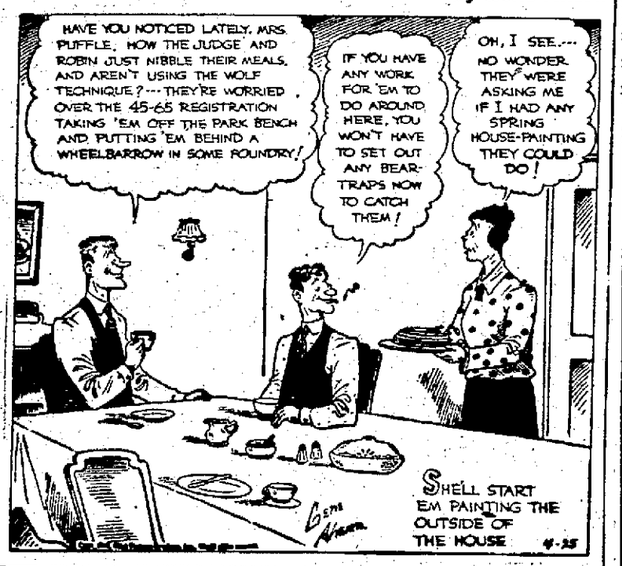
JUDGE PUFFLE— By Gene Ahern



HAVE YOU NOTICED LATELY, MRS. PUFFLE, HOW THE JUDGE AND ROBIN JUST NIBBLE THEIR MEALS, AND AREN'T USING THE WOLF TECHNIQUE?--THEY'RE WORRIED OVER THE 45-65 REGISTRATION TAKING 'EM OFF THE PARK BENCH AND PUTTING 'EM BEHIND A WHEELBARROW IN SOME FOUNDRY!
IF YOU HAVE ANY WORK FOR 'EM TO DO AROUND HERE, YOU WON'T HAVE TO SET OUT ANY BEAR-TRAPS NOW TO CATCH THEM!
OH, I SEE.... NO WONDER THEY WERE ASKING ME IF I HAD ANY SPRING HOUSE-PAINTING THEY COULD DO!
SHE'LL START 'EM PAINTING THE OUTSIDE OF THE HOUSE

STOCK MARKET UNSETTLED BY LIGHT SELLING

Westinghouse Resistant as Securities Marts Remain Depressed.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Light selling prompted by yesterday's decline kept the stock market in an unsettled state today. In a few issues minor recoveries were registered.

Fractionally lower were American Telephone, Chrysler, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem. Westinghouse and Pennsylvania were resistant. Montgomery Ward and General Electric were unchanged.

Securities markets continued depressed most of the week and about the only consolation for Wall street was the impressive improvement in the new capital market.

Marketing yesterday of the $10,000,000 issue of American Tobacco 3 per cent debentures lifted the week's total of new bond offerings to $105,500,000, largest volume to be offered since last Jan. 23. In the previous week only about $4,000,000 of new securities were offered.

3-DAY ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. Walter Cook Succumbs At Home In Shelby.

SHELBY—Mrs. Walter Cook of 41 North Gamble street died Friday night at her home following an illness of three days.

A lifelong resident of Shelby, she was a member of the Daughters of American Revolution and Martha Washington chapter at Mansfield.

Surviving are a son, Richard, at home; a brother, William H. Dick, and a sister, Anna Douglass Dick, both of Shelby.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Monday at the Barkdull funeral home. Rev. A. B. Allison, pastor of First Presbyterian church will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

MANIAC STRIKES TWO IN STREET

Fells Woman With Hammer Before Cab Drivers Truss Him Up.

NEW YORK—(INS)—A six-foot maniac today ran amok with a hammer at 81st street and Columbus avenue and felled two women pedestrians before several taxi drivers, armed with crank handles, subdued him by tying him up with rope.

When radio police and an ambulance drew up, the cab drivers had their man trussed on the sidewalk like a lassoed steer.

The attacker approached the first woman from behind, drew the hammer from under his coat and slugged her over the head. As she toppled, screaming, he ran forward and repeated the blow on the skull of the second woman.

C. A. SCHAEFER, GALION, DIES

GALION—A life-long resident of Galion, Charles A. Schaefer, 82, died in City hospital here Friday. He had been ill for the past week.

Surviving are his widow, Carolina; three sons, Paul, of Louisville, Ky., Lewis, of Mansfield, and Theodore, of New York City; a daughter, Mrs. Rubin Pounder, Galion; four grandchildren; two brothers, Augusts, of Canton, and Fred, of Galion, and a half-brother, Daniel Krieter of Galion.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the home. Rev. Phillip Auer, pastor of Peace Lutheran church, of which he was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

EXTENSION SEEN

OPA Expected To Broaden Control Of Rent In 300 Areas.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The Office of Price Administration's rent control authority soon may be extended to some 300 communities where housing costs have soared excessively as part of the program to check inflation.

Informed officials said the step will apply to "most" of the industrial centers where floods of new workers have caused "rent profiteering."

4 FIRE ALARMS

Firemen Have Busy Period; Damage Slight.

Mansfield firemen were summoned on four fire alarms within the last 24 hours but no serious damage was reported at any of the blazes.

The first call came early yesterday afternoon. Firemen checked a fire in an automobile owned by J. Rathburn at 32 Glenwood boulevard. The fire was believed due to a short circuit in the wiring of the car.

A short circuit in a motor at the Westinghouse plant at 5:19 p. m. brought out three of the Mansfield fire companies but little damage was caused.

Shortly before 7 p. m., firemen went out again when they received a report that a truck owned by the Canton Iron and Metal company was burning at Marion and Sherman avenues. They found that the brakes of the truck had caught fire and that the blaze had spread to a load of rags in the truck.

They were called today at 6:53 a. m. to extinguish a mattress fire at the home of Mary Denzer, 190½ North Main street. They said that the cause of the fire was undetermined.

U. S. TREASURY REPORT

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The treasury balance April 23 was $3,244,482,828.46.

News Briefs

In Hospital—Word was received here today by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henness, 142 Stewart avenue, that their daughter, Rosalee McMullen, is convalescing in a Hollywood, Calif., hospital.

Approves Transfer — The Lucas village council yesterday was authorized by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston to transfer $2,565 from the lighting fund to the waterworks fund to finance expansion of the village water system.

Reports Burglary Attempt — Martin Lewis, manager of Fashion Lane Clothiers, 16 West Third street, reported to police today that an unsuccessful attempt had been made last night or early this morning to break into the company's store. Lewis told police he found "jimmy" marks around the lock on the front door but that entrance was not gained.

Ask Parking Ban—Trustees of the First Presbyterian church have requested city council to prohibit parking on Library court between Mulberry street and Weldon avenue. The trustees claim that the many cars parked there throughout the day constitute a fire hazard, blocking the admittance of any fire apparatus to the street. They also stated that the parking provided a traffic danger for children and other persons attending the church.

MANSFIELD BUSINESS IN REVIEW

Opens Mansfield Business Series

This week The Mansfield News-Journal opens a new series of articles on Mansfield business in review in which it hopes to familiarize Mansfield residents with the employes and many services offered to them in Mansfield stores and businesses.

In these articles, you will learn of the background of the people operating the stores, restaurants or businesses which you patronize every day.

You will learn just why they are qualified to serve your needs. You will also be taken into their establishment for a short inspection tour, so that you may have some idea of the techniques they use in serving you.

Along with this feature article will appear short, newsy bits telling of activity in other Mansfield businesses.

Health Kitchen Provides Homey Atmosphere Splendid Cooking In Debut for Mansfielders

City's Newest Restaurant Opened on East Third Street By Erwins.

Healthful meals in a homey atmosphere. That's the slogan which the Health Kitchen, Mansfield's newest restaurant has adopted for itself.

The Health Kitchen is located at 30 East Third street at the site formerly known as Shwartz's restaurant and the new owners began operations just this week.

Managing the Health Kitchen are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Erwin. Both have been associated with the restaurant business for several years.

Mr. Erwin comes to Mansfield from St. Petersburg beach, Fla., where he managed the restaurant at the Triangle, well-known Floridan night club and eatery. Mrs. Erwin is the former Catherine Reinhardt of Mansfield. Her father, the late Jacob Reinhardt was well-known to scores of Mansfielders, having operated the cafeteria for the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company for several years.

Offer Cuban Sandwich.

Among the specialties at the Health Kitchen is the Cuban sandwich, Southern innovation in eating. Erwin, who became proficient in preparing this delicacy while in Florida, claims that it is a meal in itself.

"I suppose you people would call it a 'Dagwood' sandwich," says Erwin, "but it takes a lot more than just piling a lot of different things together. To make a good Cuban sandwich, it takes what we restaurant folk call cooking artistry."

The Cuban sandwich is publicized in the south as one of the most popular items in Cuba. According to Erwin, it took the Southern residents by storm. Cuban sandwich stands flourish there just as hot-dog or hamburger stands do in the North.

Main ingredients of the Cuban sandwich are ham, cheese, brunsweiger, lettuce, salami, salad dressing and several others. The whole thing is served between two pieces of Cuban or French bread cut lengthwise and as Erwin says, makes a meal in itself.

Proud of Spaghetti.

Another one of Erwin's specialties is his spaghetti. His sauce is the thing which puts it across, he believes. The finest of meat and spice go into this sauce which Erwin prepares as carefully as the finest pharmacist preparing a vital prescription.

One of the Erwins' strongest beliefs is that luncheons at most restaurants cost too much. To offset this, they present three luncheon choices daily for 29 cents. Included among these is one with a Cuban sandwich, french fried potatoes and a beverage.

In addition to 24-hour service, the Health Kitchen offers special party and celebration service. Private dinners may be arranged with special menus at surprisingly short notice. Parties may also be arranged for clubs or civic organizations.

The Erwins do not confine themselves to Cuban sandwiches or spaghetti, however. They offer the best of steaks, chops, roasts and culinary specialties.

"And our greatest concern at all times," says Erwin, "is to supply healthful meals in a homey atmosphere."

Pictured above is the Health Kitchen at 30 East Third street, Mansfield's newest restaurant. Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Erwin, the Health Kitchen features Cuban sandwiches, a southern delicacy, and all other varieties of meals. Summer Concerts Planned by Smart

Plans are rapidly being completed for the annual concert series presented by pupils of the Eugene Smart music studios, 5 Park avenue west. The pupils will present a program for inmates of Ohio State Reformatory on May 3 and will open their summer series of North Lake park concerts in mid-July.

The concert at the reformatory is presented semi-annually. This is the tenth year in which the North Lake concert series has been held.

Mr. Smart has been associated in the musical instruction and sales business in Mansfield for 18 years. His studios, with their sound-proof construction, individual attention, and availability of instruments, are among the leaders in their class in the state.

Arrangements are being made for a series of summer musical classes. Applications for admittance to one of these classes may be made with Mr. Smart at the studios, 5 Park avenue west.

INSURES SUPPLY

Maryland Town Builds Underground Water Pumping Stations.

SALISBURY, Md. —(AP)— People here aren't worrying about the water supply in case the town is bombed.

City council has approved plans for construction of three bombproof, underground pumping stations, to be powered by used automobile engines so the system won't even need outside power service.

You say "old as the hills" and "changeable as the weather." Actually the hills are young in geologic age; the weather constant.

War Meals Show Value Of Roaster

Electric Unit Praised By Home Service Director.

With women being called more and more for positions in defense business every day, one of the Ohio Public Service company's fastest selling items—the electric roaster seems destined to play an increasingly greater part in the preparation of wartime meals.

Miss Irene Oberlin, home service director for the Mansfield division of the Ohio Public Service company, recommends the roaster, especially to women working in the war effort.

"Business women who drive their own cars to work find it convenient to take their electric roasters to the office every day and home again at night," says Miss. Oberlin. "At noon, they buy food for dinner, place it in the roaster, and cook it right beside their desks during the afternoon, so that dinner is ready when they reach home."

The electric roaster is as versatile as your kitchen range, Miss Oberlin points out. With it you can perform any cooking operation that you can with your range. You can roast, bake, grill, boil, broil, toast and fry. What more can any piece of cooking equipment do?

The roaster is portable and can be used wherever there is an electric outlet. You can carry it easily from room to room and serve directly from it at buffet luncheons. You can take it out on the porch or into the garden in summer, for meals in the open. It is thoroughly insulated, and will keep its contents hot for hours even when you pack it into the family car to take along on picnics.

Other reasons why the electric roaster is so popular with women is that it gives off no smoke or soot, and its porcelain enamel finish, inside and out, makes it easy to clean. It is insulated throughout, and cooks without heating up the room, making it particularly economical in use, because all the heat is used for cooking and none of it is wasted.

TILLIE THE TOILER

TILLIE, I DONT WANT BETTY TO KNOW WHERE I'M GOING AND I CAN'T LIE TO HER
TELL HER YOUR UNCLE SENT FOR YOU-SHE NEEDN'T KNOW YOU MEAN UNCLE SAM
OH, BILL, DO LET ME COOK YOU A DINNER TONIGHT
NO, MY UNCLE SENT FOR ME I'VE GOT TO RUN
MAYBE HE WON'T KEEP YOU LONG
WELL, HE'S GOING TO TAKE ME TO A FIGHT, BUT I'LL GIVE YOU A RING, AS SOON AS THE FIGHT'S OVER 4-20
I'LL WAIT RIGHT BY THE 'PHONE TILL YOU RING
OKAY, S'LONG
HEH HEH-IF SHE WAITS TILL THE FIGHT HE MEANS IS OVER, SHE'LL WAIT FOR SOME TIME
RUSS COLSTOVER
BETTY'S COMING DON'T TELL HER WHERE BILL'S GONE
WHAT CAN I TELL HER, POP? SAY I'VE AN IDEA-ALL RECRUITS MUST HAVE A PHYSICAL EXAMINATION BILL WAS TO CALL ME UP LAST NIGHT-WHERE IS HE?
HE'S GONE TO SEE A DOCTOR
4-21
OH, HELLO, DR. FYRE
I JUST SAW BILL AND I MIGHT BUY HIS CAR-IT MAY BE A YEAR BEFORE HE CAN USE IT
MERCY SOMETHING'S WRONG WITH BILL
SHE'S FAINTED
THAT'S RICH-IT'S BECAUSE THERE'S NOTHING WRONG WITH BILL HE CAN'T USE THE CAR FOR A LONG TIME
RUSS COLSTOVER
PUT HER ON THIS BUNK, DOCTOR, BUT WHEN SHE COMES-TO, DON'T TELL HER WHERE BILL'S GONE
ALL RIGHT, I'LL AVOID IT SOMEHOW GOOD-SHE'S COME-TO DOCTOR, YOU SAID BILL COULDN'T USE HIS CAR FOR A LONG TIME-IS HE INJURED OR ILL?
DON'T WORRY
IT'S JUST A CASE OF "STELLA-ET-LINEAPHILIA," BUT NO MORE QUESTIONS, TILL YOU FEEL BETTER
4-22
NOW DON'T YOU BE ALARMED-THAT WAS A LATIN TERM MEANING HE LOVES THE STARS AND STRIPES
DOCTOR, YOU'RE WONDERFUL
RUSS COLSTOVER
YOU'RE ALL RIGHT NOW AND I CAN TELL YOU-BILL'S HAD TO GO AWAY FOR A WHILE BUT WHERE HAS HE GONE?
HE'S GONE TO TERRA INCOGNITA
TERRA INCOGNITA? WHERE'S THAT?
I'M SORRY, BUT I DON'T KNOW, MYSELF
I'M AFRAID I DON'T, EITHER
WELL, I'LL FIND SOMEONE WHO DOES
4-25
HEH-HEH-I KNOW THAT MUCH LATIN-IT MEANS "PARTS UNKNOWN"
WELL, SHE DIDN'T AND WE'VE KEPT HER OFF BILL'S TRAIL FOR A WHILE
RUSS COLSTOVER
I KNOW THIS IS YOUR AFTERNOON OFF, TILLIE, BUT WILL YOU TAKE THESE PAPERS TO BILL'S MOTHER?
I'D BE GLAD TO, POP-I'D LIKE TO MEET HER
I MUST SHOW BILL'S MOTHER I'M A NICE PERSON, EVEN IF I DO ROUGH WORK-I'LL BE EXTRA SWEET
I SUPPOSE I'LL HAVE TO INTRODUCE MYSELF, MRS. SCROGGS
NO, YOU WON'T-
4-24
-YOU'RE THAT BETTY PERSON. I WAS WARNED YOU'D COME HERE WITH A SUGARY MANNER
SLAM
RUSS COLSTOVER
SHE CAN'T SLAM THE DOOR IN MY FACE, EVEN IF SHE IS BILL'S MOTHER
AND THE IDEA OF HER JUMPING AT CONCLUSIONS AND THINKING I WAS THAT BETTY PERSON-SHE CAN GO TO THE DICKENS
4-25
STILL, SHE MUST BE UPSET BY BILL'S GOING AWAY AND BETTY MUST BE A PAIN TO HER. I'LL GO BACK
I HOPE YOU HAVEN'T TOLD THAT BETTY PERSON WHERE BILL WENT, MRS. SCROGGS
OH, YOU MUST BE TILLIE JONES
MERCY, NOW SHE WILL FIND OUT WHERE BILL'S GONE!

BUMP!
S-S-SHH, MA NOT SO LOUD! DO YOU WANT THE KIDS TO HEAR YOU?

EFFIE I HEAR YOU PITCHED FOR THE "PANTHERS" YESTERDAY! HOW WAS YOUR CONTROL?
H'IT'S GITTIN' BETTER--AH ONLY BEANED FOUR BATTERS!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
BUT I HEARD THEY TOOK YOU OUT IN THE SECOND INNIN'?
THET'S RIGHT! AH'M GITTIN' QUITE A REP'TATION, AS A RELIEF PITCHER!
AREN'T YOU A LITTLE MIXED UP, EFFIE? YOU STARTED THE GAME!--YOU WEREN'T THE RELIEF PITCHER!
JEST THE SAME...
...ALL OUR OPPONENTS SAID H'IT WAS QUITE A RELIEF WHEN AH WAS TAKEN OUT!
WE'RE HAVIN' A LITTLE PRACTICE GAME TODAY, REGGIE, AND EFFIE INSISTS ON PITCHIN'! YOU KNOW HOW BAD HER CONTROL IS, SO YOU BETTER DUCK WHEN YOU SEE IT COMIN'!
YES, INDEED, I'LL BE CARE-FUL!
MAH ARM FEELS FIRST-RATE T'DAY! AH THANK ALL H'IT NEEDED WUZ A TETCH OF WARM WEATHER!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
OOOOOOFF!
GOSH! THAT WENT BY RAPIDLY AND A PERFECT STRIKE, TOO! I RATHER SUSPECT THAT EFFIE HAS REGAINED HER CONTROL!
UGH! WOW! ULP! YEAH, I'M RATHER SURE SHE HAS.
SAY, DID YOU HEAR ABOUT EFFIE SIGNIN' UP TO PITCH FOR THE "BOB-CATS"... JUST WHEN SHE REGAINED HER CONTROL?
YEAH. THEY'RE GOIN' TO PAY HER TWO DOLLARS A WEEK!
I WONDER IF THEY MADE HER SIGN A CONTRACT?
I DON'T THINK SO. MAYBE WE CAN TALK HER INTO COMIN' WITH US!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
...BUT, EFFIE, YOU CAN GET OUT OF IT! AFTER ALL, YOU DIDN'T SIGN A CONTRACT!
BUT AH GAVE MAH WORD OF HONOR AN' THET'S THE SAME THANG! WIF US OUR WORD IS EZ GOOD EZ OUR BOND!
HOWEVER, EF YEW KNOT-HAIDS HAS A BETTER OFFER, AH'LL BE GLAD TO CONSIDER H'IT!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

CHEER UP, ANNIE ~ JUST BECAUSE WE'RE QUARANTINED IN THE HOSPITAL IS NO REASON TO FEEL BLUE ~ WE'RE NOT SICK
OH, I JUST KINDA GET THE WIM-WAMS THINKIN' 'BOUT THE TWO MEN WHO WERE HERE YESTERDAY ~ ACTIN' LIKE THEY WAS AWFUL MAD AT MR. OLIVER
OH ~ THAT'S NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT
BUT THEY SAID 'CAUSE MR. OLIVER HELPED THAT LITTLE SICK GIRL WE FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN THE ROAD, THEY WERE GONNA TELL THE POLICE MR. OLIVER WAS PRACTICING MEDICINE WITHOUT A LICENSE
AN' THEY SAID THAT WAS BREAKIN' THE LAW ~ AN' MR. OLIVER WOULD BE PUT IN JAIL, 'CAUSE IT'S BREAKIN' THE LAW TO HELP SICK FOLKS ~ IF YOU'RE NOT A DOCTOR!
DARRELL McCLURE
4-20
HEY, YOU ~ JUST A MINUTE ~ WE HAVE A LITTLE MESSAGE FROM A JUDGE ADDRESSED TO "DOCTOR" OLIVER
THIS IS A WARRANT FOR YOUR ARREST FOR PRACTICING MEDICINE WITHOUT A LICENSE
BUT, GENTLEMEN, THIS IS A MISTAKE
THAT'S WHAT THEY ALL SAY
OUR JOB IS TO BRING YOU IN ~ YOU CAN EXPLAIN "THE MISTAKE" TO A JUDGE AND JURY
I WILL OFFER NO RESISTANCE ~ AFTER ALL, YOU GENTLEMEN ARE MERELY DOING YOUR DUTY
OH, HANNA ~ LOOK! TWO POLICEMEN ARE TAKING MR. OLIVER TO JAIL!!
DARRELL McCLURE

NOW, CHILDREN ~ I TOLD YOU NOT TO WORRY ABOUT MR. OLIVER'S ARREST FOR PRACTICING MEDICINE ~ HE CAN PROVE HE IS NOT GUILTY
I KNOW MR. OLIVER JUST COULDN'T BE GUILTY OF ANYTHING WRONG ~ BUT IT'S AWFUL TO THINK MR. OLIVER IS IN JAIL ~ LIKE IF HE WAS A ROBBER OR ~ GLORYOSKY ~ YOU MEAN HE'S FREE AN' DON'T HAFTA STAY IN JAIL??
HE'S OUT ON BAIL ~ MR. OLIVER WILL HAVE TO PROVE HE IS INNOCENT WHEN HE APPEARS IN COURT SATURDAY
DARRELL McCLURE
YOU MEAN MR. OLIVER MUST GO TO COURT JUST LIKE HE DID SOMETHING WRONG??
YES, DEAR ~ BUT APPEARING IN A COURT OF LAW DOES NOT MEAN YOU ARE GUILTY

SO YOU GOT THE GOODS ON OLD ORPHAN OLIVER ?
YES, WE'VE GOT THE OLD FOX AT LAST ~ IT WAS A LUCKY BREAK FOR US ~
THE MATRON AT THE COUNTY ORPHANAGE NOTICED ONE OF THE ORPHAN'S FACES COVERED WITH A RASH ~ SHE ORDERED THE LITTLE GIRL TO GO TO THE ORPHANAGE DOCTOR'S OFFICE ~~
INSTEAD, THE KID GOT SCARED AND RAN AWAY ~ NEXT DAY WE LEARNED SHE WAS A PATIENT IN OLD OLIVER'S PRIVATE HOSPITAL ~
AND YOU HAD THE OLD BIRD PINCHED FOR PRACTICING WITHOUT A DOCTOR'S LICENSE ~ NOW WE'VE GOT HIM ~ ALL NICE AND LEGAL!
DARRELL McCLURE
YES, CHILDREN, I THINK I CAN SAFELY PROMISE YOU I AM NOT GOING TO JAIL ~ I AM MERELY GOING TO COURT TO EXPLAIN A MISTAKE MADE BY OVER-ZEALOUS, OR I MIGHT SAY, OVER-JEALOUS POLITICIANS!

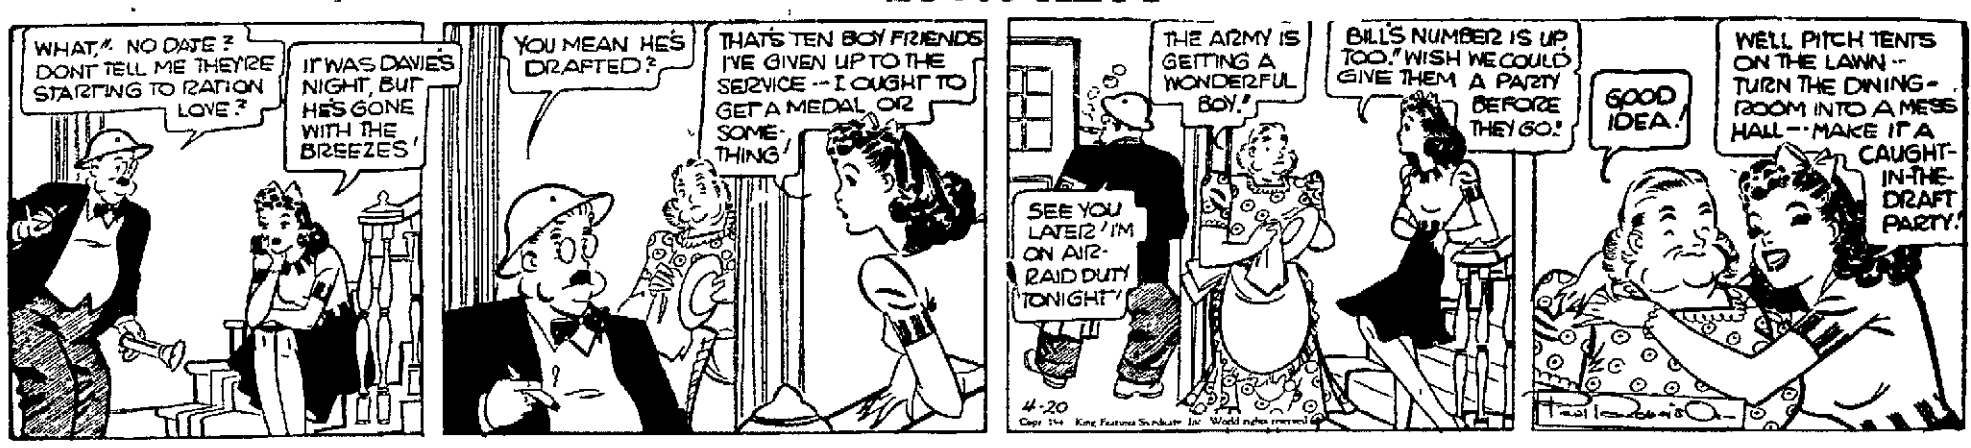
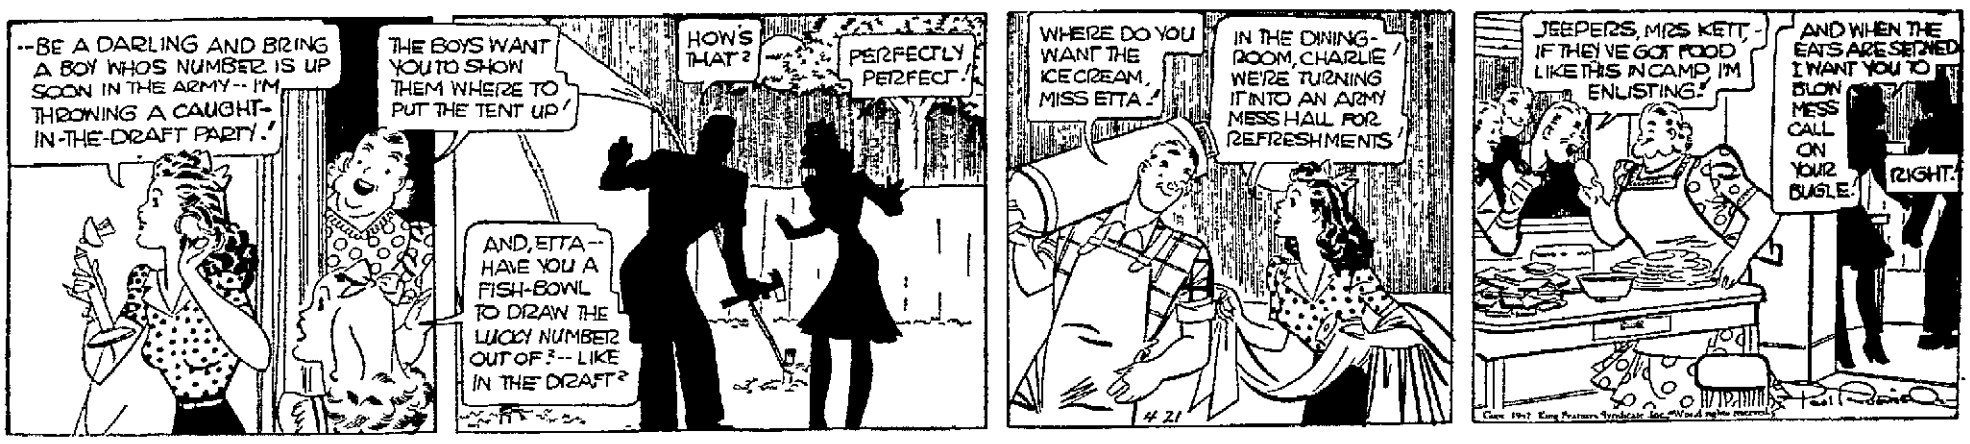
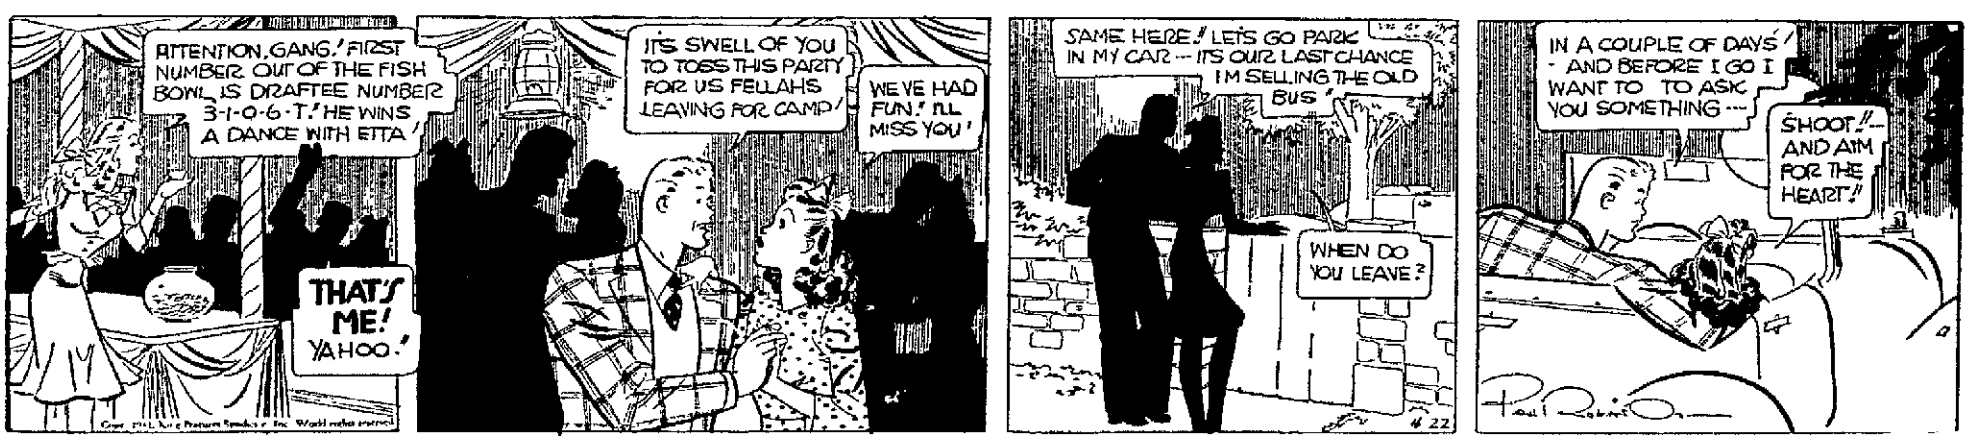
ETTA KETT



WHAT,* NO DATE? DONT TELL ME THEY'RE STARTING TO RATION LOVE?
IT WAS DAVIES NIGHT, BUT HE'S GONE WITH THE BREEZES!
YOU MEAN HE'S DRAFTED?
THAT'S TEN BOY FRIENDS I'VE GIVEN UP TO THE SERVICE -- I OUGHT TO GET A MEDAL OR SOMETHING!
THE ARMY IS GETTING A WONDERFUL BOY!
BILL'S NUMBER IS UP TOO." WISH WE COULD GIVE THEM A PARTY BEFORE THEY GO!
SEE YOU LATER! I'M ON AIR-RAID DUTY TONIGHT"
4-20
GOOD IDEA!
WELL PITCH TENTS ON THE LAWN -- TURN THE DINING-ROOM INTO A MESS HALL -- MAKE IT A CAUGHT-IN-THE-DRAFT PARTY!



--BE A DARLING AND BRING A BOY WHOS NUMBER IS UP SOON IN THE ARMY -- I'M THROWING A CAUGHT-IN-THE-DRAFT PARTY!
THE BOYS WANT YOU TO SHOW THEM WHERE TO PUT THE TENT UP!
HOW'S THAT?
PERFECTLY PERFECT!
AND, ETTA -- HAVE YOU A FISH-BOWL TO DRAW THE LUCKY NUMBER OUT OF? -- LIKE IN THE DRAFT?
WHERE DO YOU WANT THE ICE CREAM, MISS ETTA?
IN THE DINING-ROOM, CHARLIE WE'RE TURNING IT INTO AN ARMY MESS HALL FOR REFRESHMENTS!
4-21
JEEPERS, MRS KETT - IF THEY'VE GOT FOOD LIKE THIS IN CAMP I'M ENLISTING!
AND WHEN THE EATS ARE SET-NED I WANT YOU TO BLOW MESS CALL ON YOUR BUGLE.
RIGHT!



ATTENTION, GANG! FIRST NUMBER OUT OF THE FISH BOWL IS DRAFTEE NUMBER 3-1-0-6-T. HE WINS A DANCE WITH ETTA!
THAT'S ME! YAHOO!
IT'S SWELL OF YOU TO TOSS THIS PARTY FOR US FELLAHS LEAVING FOR CAMP!
WE'VE HAD FUN! I'LL MISS YOU!
SAME HERE! LETS GO PARK IN MY CAR -- IT'S OUR LAST CHANCE I'M SELLING THE OLD BUS!
WHEN DO YOU LEAVE?
4-22
IN A COUPLE OF DAYS! - AND BEFORE I GO I WANT TO TO ASK YOU SOMETHING -- SHOOT!" -- AND AIM FOR THE HEART!"

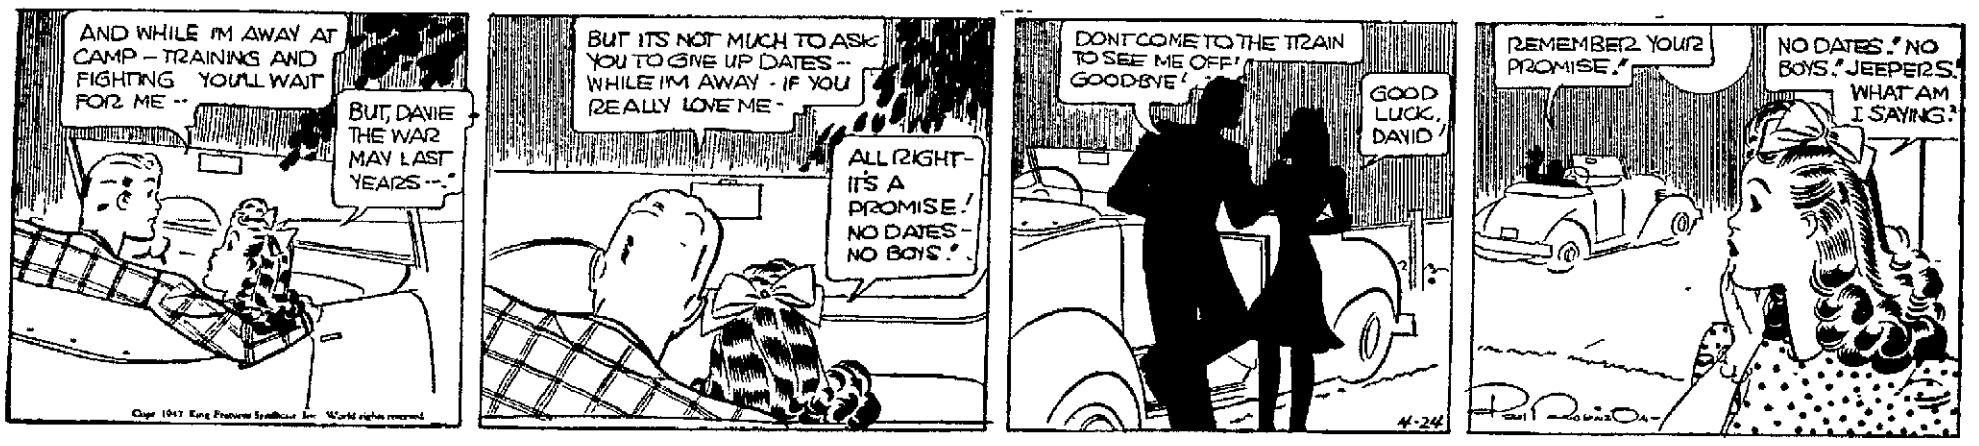
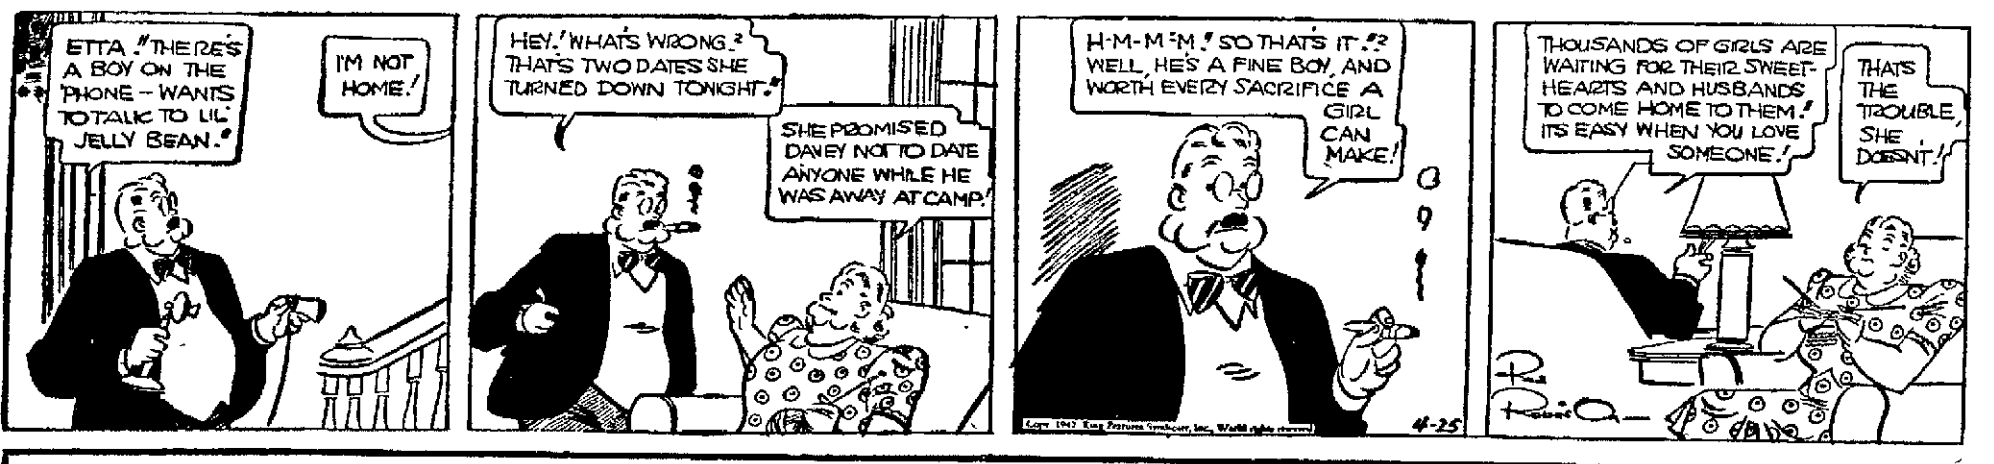
MY NUMBER'S UP - I'LL BE LEAVING FOR CAMP SOON! GOING TO MISS ME?
TERRIBLY!
I WAS GOING TO ASK YOU TO MARRY ME BEFORE I LEFT BUT I'VE CHANGED MY MIND - WILL YOU WAIT FOR ME TILL I GET BACK -- AFTER THE WAR?
YOU MEAN NO DANCES - NO DATES?
IT ISNT MUCH TO ASK -- IF YOU LOVE ME --
THOUSANDS OF GIRLS ARE WAITING FOR THEIR SWEETHEARTS AND HUSBANDS -- WHY CAN'T YOU?
4-23



AND WHILE I'M AWAY AT CAMP - TRAINING AND FIGHTING YOU'LL WAIT FOR ME --
BUT, DAVIE THE WAR MAY LAST YEARS --
BUT ITS NOT MUCH TO ASK YOU TO GIVE UP DATES -- WHILE I'M AWAY - IF YOU REALLY LOVE ME -
ALL RIGHT - IT'S A PROMISE! NO DATES - NO BOYS!
DONT COME TO THE TRAIN TO SEE ME OFF! GOODBYE!
GOOD LUCK, DAVID!
4-24
REMEMBER YOUR PROMISE."
NO DATES." NO BOYS." JEEPERS! WHAT AM I SAYING?



ETTA!" THERE'S A BOY ON THE 'PHONE - WANTS TO TALK TO LIL' JELLY BEAN!"
I'M NOT HOME!
HEY! WHAT'S WRONG? THAT'S TWO DATES SHE TURNED DOWN TONIGHT!
SHE PROMISED DAVEY NOT TO DATE ANYONE WHILE HE WAS AWAY AT CAMP!
H-M-M-M! SO THAT'S IT!? WELL, HE'S A FINE BOY, AND WORTH EVERY SACRIFICE A GIRL CAN MAKE!
4-25
THOUSANDS OF GIRLS ARE WAITING FOR THEIR SWEETHEARTS AND HUSBANDS TO COME HOME TO THEM! IT'S EASY WHEN YOU LOVE SOMEONE!
THAT'S THE TROUBLE, SHE DOESN'T!
